

U. PRESIDENT BACKS SCHMIDT IN MEDICAL WAR

Dr. Yarros Resigns from Physicians' Society.

Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university, yesterday took sides with Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, famous physician, in the latter's controversy with the Chicago Medical society over the high costs of being sick.

The physician's ouster from the medical society will not affect his standing in the faculty of Northwestern university, Dr. Scott declared. The society's action in expelling Dr. Schmidt came during an attack by the doctors on medical education, and was based on his contention, through the Illinois Social Hygiene league, with the Public Health Institute, a clinic for the treatment of social diseases which advocates its activities.

Dr. Yarros Quits Society.

Dr. Rachelle Yarros, well known woman physician and resident physician at Hull house, who has spent twenty years in ministering to the poor and the working classes of Chicago, yesterday tendered her resignation to the Chicago Medical society. She stated the same reasons for her resignation that were given by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen when he severed in connection with the society on Wednesday in protest against the expulsion of Dr. Schmidt.

Educator Praises Physician.

Dr. Schmidt never asks what he is going to get out of his work; he does it for the sake of humanity, and he does it unflinchingly well.

Points to Hurley Endowment.

Edward N. Hurley has proposed establishment of a fund, which he endow up to several millions of dollars, to create clinics and hospitals in the Northwestern campus, where middle classes will be served at cost. We are now holding conferences with the Chicago Medical society, trying to agree on a plan for this tremendously important project.

Present rates of medical care are high that families of modest circumstances are forced to resort to quack and patent medicines in their efforts to heal sicknesses. I do not

Name Again Linked with Ormiston

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, who was named by witness before California state senate yesterday as companion of Kenneth Ormiston, her former radio operator, at the time she claimed she was kidnapped.

believe that the establishment of clinics such as we propose will have an appreciable effect upon the income of capable physicians.

"Good doctors will have more business than ever; poor doctors cannot be expected to become affluent. The woes of the incompetent physicians should not retard medical progress."

Dr. Mann Sides with Schmidt.

Dr. Louis L. Mann, president of Chicago Sinai congregation, a professor at the University of Chicago and a member of the Illinois Social Hygiene league, also praised Dr. Schmidt. "The time is ripe for a re-statement of the ethics of the medical profession," Dr. Mann said. "Modern conditions call for a re-statement. I believe that Dr. Schmidt will become the forerunner of a new era in the history of medicine in its relation to public health. Thinking people will commend his efforts in the highest terms."

Officials of St. Luke's hospital announced that despite the action of the medical society, Dr. Schmidt would continue his extensive practice in their institution.

Assert Doctors Have Problem.

Assertions that the members of the medical society are up against a problem which threatens the well being of the entire medical profession are heard of in medical quarters. It is pointed out that hundreds of physicians in Chicago, after spending thousands of dollars for their education, are now earning less than common workmen, many of them from $2,000 to $3,000 a year. Also it is declared that there are too many physicians in the large cities, leading to the conclusion that if clinics are permitted to thrive, with many patients treated by a few physicians, it will be impossible for many doctors to be employed at their profession at all.

Efforts to obtain a discussion of the problem from the medical man's viewpoint were made yesterday, but Dr. James H. Hutten, secretary of the Chicago Medical society, said he preferred not to grant an interview at this time. Perhaps later some new statements of the society's position will be made to the public, Dr. Hutten said.

Onster Motives Attacked.

Dr. Yarros, in her letter of resignation addressed to the Chicago Medical society, assailed the motives of the physicians in ousting Dr. Schmidt. "As a resident of Hull house for twenty years," Dr. Yarros said, "working during this period in obstetrics among the poor and working classes, I learned from my own experience the need for lowering medical costs. The obstetrical care in that community twenty years ago was carried on by midwives, with a resulting high mortality of mother and child, and yet vigorous protest was made by the local physicians when the Lying-In dispensary and the dispensary of the medical department of the University of Illinois were established.

"But that did not deter us from doing much needed public service."

REPORTER HITS AIMEE'S STORY AT HARDY TRIAL

Witness Says He Saw
Her with Ormiston.

Sacramento, Cal., April 11.—[Special.]—After nearly three years in which Wallace Moore, newspaper reporter, kept silent about identifying the woman he saw traveling with Kenneth Ormiston in May, 1932, Moore electrified the impeachment proceedings of Judge Carlos Hardy in state senate today, testifying he believed Ormiston's companion was the Rev. Aimee McPherson.

Mrs. McPherson disappeared from the Los Angeles beach May 16, 1932, and reappeared in Douglas, Ariz., June 29, with a story of being kidnapped. In the interim, Moore says, he stopped an automobile near Santa Barbara, recognized the driver as Ormiston, who formerly was Mrs. McPherson's radio operator, and got a good look at the veiled lady in the car.

Judge Hardy made a special trip from Los Angeles to catch Moore in Santa Barbara, the latter testified today. The judge informed him that it was "a very serious step" to value an identification under the circumstances, Moore said, and advised him that he could at any time in the future be sued for heavy damages, if his identification collapsed.

Covered Her Meetings.

Lieut. Gov. H. L. Carnahan, presiding, took over the questioning of Moore today.

Q.—Had you become familiar with Mrs. McPherson's features prior to stopping the automobile in 1932? A.—Yes, sir; I covered many of her evangelistic meetings in Fresno and had talked to her in several meetings.

Q.—Have you seen Mrs. Ormiston since the time you saw Ormiston and companion in car? A.—Several times.

Q.—Can you state now whether the woman you saw with Ormiston was Mrs. McPherson? A.—Yes, sir; I can.

I think it was Mrs. McPherson. Moore's testimony about Aimee was pertinent to the impeachment charges because an attempt is being made to show that Hardy tried to influence prospective witnesses and to obstruct justice in the McPherson investigation, while he was sitting as a Superior court justice.

Previous Testimony Cited.

Counsel for Hardy attempted to impeach the newspaper man by producing a transcript of testimony which he gave in Los Angeles during the McPherson conspiracy case hearing, Moore, at that occasion, allegedly said.

DEATH REVEALS WAIF OF 70 AS A FORMER BUSINESS EXECUTIVE

The story of a fall from prominence to obscure poverty is believed to have been revealed last night in the death of Arthur A. Darr, 70 years old, whose body was found in his room at 1193 West Adams street. His death was attributed to heart disease.

From papers in the man's pockets the police believe he had been at different times an editor, legal counselor, and business man. The documents indicated, police said, that he had been managing editor of the Clinton, Ill., Daily Public and manager of the Clinton Public Printing company, business manager of another newspaper, general counsel of the Lateral Justice league of New York City, law counselor of the Bankers' Investment bureau, and an executive in other business enterprises.

A bank book among his effects showed an account of only $8 with the Chicago Trust company.

He did not believe the woman with Ormiston was the evangelist.

Moore explained today that his previous testimony was "forced" and stuck to his assertion that Mrs. McPherson was the woman in the car.

Lindy at Greensboro, N.C.; Hides Away from Crowd

Greensboro, N. C., April 11.—[Special.]—Linda B. Barker, 23 years old, 4633 Lake Park avenue, former fireman employed by the Chicago and North Western railroad, was awarded $37,500 in damages by a jury in Judge Claire C. Edwards' Circuit court in Waukegan yesterday for the loss of a leg in an accident over six years ago in the yards north of Waukegan. The verdict, a record in Lake county, ended four years of litigation, during which the case went to a jury on three separate occasions.

SON SHOOT'S HIS MOTHER DEAD; THEN SISTER

New York, April 11.—[Special.]—Heavy gunfire, 34, son of Henriquez, legal advice to the Columbia hospital, visited his parents' apartment in West 90th street this afternoon. He was greeted by his mother, Mrs. Henriquez, 53, who asked him how he liked his work as a laboratory assistant at the Pan-American hospital.

Without a word the youth drew a target revolver and shot his mother through the mouth. As she fell to the floor he sent another bullet through her back, killing her instantly.

His sister, Teresa, 18, the only other person in the room, ran screaming to the telephone in the foyer and put in a call for police.

Before she could get her call through, her brother had shot her three times, in the chest, right arm and right thigh.

Grappling with him, she wrested the revolver from his hand and he fled out of the apartment, while the girl collapsed and died.

Young Henriquez had been acting strangely for some time, relatives said. He had not lived at home for several years.

TORNADO DEATH TOLL MOUNTS TO 50 IN ARKANSAS

Search of Ruined Homes
Not Completed Yet.

Little Rock, Ark., April 11.—(AP)—Wrecked farmhouses in isolated parts of mountainous north Arkansas were not to be explored by rescue workers tonight, 24 hours after a pair of tornadoes dipped and swung across the region, leaving 50 dead, more than 200 injured, and a huge property loss.

The Red Cross has placed a large number of relief workers in the storm sections, while residents of stricken communities have organized local relief work. Business men of Swifton, Ala., and Newport met in Swifton today and mapped out a program of relief and rehabilitation.

Gov. Harvey Parnell has sent scores of tents and other supplies to the homeless and injured.

The dead were residents of Swifton, Dorado, Gulon, and Parkin.

Survivor Describes Storm.

Memphis, Tenn., April 11.—(AP)—Gladys Clark, 27, of near Wynne, Ark., told today how the tornado last evening lifted his house twice, set it on one end and then a moment later smashed it into splinters. The twelve occupants all escaped with their lives.

"We were sitting in a bedroom at the end of the house when the tornado struck," he said. "The house was lifted up and landed down. It was lifted up a second time and we were all thrown around inside."

"We were shuffled around on the ceiling. Then there was a terrible crash and the house flew into splinters. I was under a few pieces of timber. I stood up, but something flying through the air hit me across the face and knocked me down. It dashed me but when my head cleared I began to dig in the wreckage for the others."

"Parts of the house—roofs and walls—would go roaring through the air. The rain came down in such sheets that I felt like I was drowning."

"I found my nephew, who had been sitting on my knee when the storm struck, buried under a bed piled high with wreckage."

"That storm was like judgment day—that's the only way I know how to tell it."

Shows in Three States.

St. Paul, Minn., April 11.—(AP)—One man died in St. Paul from overexertion, but service was hampered and wire communication affected as a spring storm spread heavy, wet snow over three northern states today, ranging from a trace in North Dakota to more than a foot in the South Dakota Black hills.

Olaf Wetteland, 65, fell dead here after plunging through snow which was six inches deep.

Albert Lee, Minn., reported highways in bad condition after a ten inch fall.

In western Wisconsin, through the storm swept by a tornado last week, more than six inches was on the ground.

Flooding Is Forecast.

St. Louis, Mo., April 11.—(AP)—Continued heavy rains brought new rises today in the Mississippi river and its tributaries in the middle west. Flooding was forecast by the United States weather bureau, which also predicted a light to heavy frost tonight in the St. Louis area.

The Mississippi was rising from the mouth of the Missouri river to Cape Girardeau, Mo. The lower Missouri was bank full today and was flooding St. Charles. The Mississippi was four feet above flood stage this morning at Alton, Ill., and observers said it would reach six feet above flood stage there Sunday.

The Wabash river passed flood stage today at Mount Carmel, Ill., and was still rising, threatening wheat crops in the river valley.

TRAIN WINS IN RACE THROUGH ARKANSAS WITH TORNADO CLOUD

Poplar Bluff, Mo., April 11.—(AP)—A thrilling story of a race between a Missouri Pacific train and the tornado that claimed more than two score lives in northeastern Arkansas was related by passengers after the train reached here.

Engineer M. E. Thompson said he saw the tornado and could even see timbers and trees flying in the air. It seemed to be heading directly toward the train. Thompson opened the throttle. The train picked up speed and within a few minutes, according to the estimates of passengers, was racing along about 70 miles an hour.

The race continued for 25 to 30 minutes. Then the tornado changed its course, and disappeared to the east. Thompson declined to discuss the race except to say that "it turned near caught us."

DEMOCRATS SAVE GUERNSEY'S SEAT IN TRANSIT GROUP

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., April 11.—(Special.)—The Democrats on the city council late tonight withstood the efforts of two Thompsonites to oust Ald. Guy Guernsey (8th) from his place on the local transportation committee. The administration, earlier had failed to remove Guernsey from his harbor chairmanship and seat on the finance committee. The administration efforts were made on behalf of Ald. William A. Rowan (10th), who cast the deciding vote to seat Ald. B. A. Cronson as one of the council slatemakers.

The administration is directing its attention toward Ald. Max Adamowski (14th) to get the vote to take Guernsey off transit.

Vacancies were filled on two committees. Some aldermen were moved off the committees on local industries, streets and alleys, and railway terminals to make room for the second termers in the council. The ones taken off were given better committees. Four aldermen went on local industries, leaving one vacancy to fill. They are John P. Wilson (11th), James G. Coyle (17th), William Y. Parcelli (20th), and Frank A. Rings (19th).

On the railway terminals committee four new aldermen were given committees. They are Charles S. Eaton (8th), O. E. Northrup (19th), George Rosenthal (34th), and Clement A. Nance (7th), the other addition to this committee being Adamowski.

SOUTHERN CROSS FOUND; REPORT CREW SAFE, WELL

Had Been Missing for Twelve Days.

BY JACK MYERS.

WYDNET, N. S. W., April 12.—The missing airplane, Southern Cross, and crew of four have been found, according to a wireless message received at noon today from Pilot Holden of the plane Canberra, which, with other planes, had been searching for the missing airmen over the wild northwest Australian reaches for twelve days. The Southern Cross is reported to have been found on a mud flat south of the Port George Mission. The message from Pilot Holden said:

"Have sighted Southern Cross. All crew alive and have plenty of food. A second message confirmed the first and said food had been dropped to the crew."

Missing Since March 31.

The Southern Cross had been missing since Sunday, March 31. It was the first leg of a flight from Sydney to England, and was last seen over a mission at Wyndham, in western Australia. At that time it was reported that its fuel supply was running short and that it was making a forced landing. That was the last heard of it until today.

Had expeditions consisting of airplanes, both private and federal, and searchers and native runners were dispatched to find them. The message from the Southern Cross gave their position as "100 miles east of Wyndham."

Were About to Be Given Up.

That territory was thoroughly searched, as was the region surrounding it for hundreds of miles, but no trace had been found of them, and they were on the point of being given up for dead when the message from the Canberra told of their being found.

The Southern Cross is commanded by Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith. With him were Pilot Charles T. O. O'Neil, a navigator named Litchfield, and a wireless man named McWilliam.

Four Die in Crash.

ROME, April 11.—(AP)—Four men were killed today in a crash of two biplanes maneuvering near the Aviano aerodrome. The planes were at a height of 300 feet when they collided and were hurled to the ground in a tangled mass. The occupants of both planes were killed.

Wife Beater Sentenced to

Kiss Missus Every Day

New York, April 11.—(AP)—John McEneaney, who admitted that he had beaten his wife, was directed by Magistrate Elmer today to kiss her every morning for six months or until the end of the workhouse term. The judge said that the man must not be any more brutal to his wife, or McCauley, as he is to go to the workhouse any day, with no time off for the kisses.

McCauley executed the first day's sentence in court and the couple returned to their home.

GETS DIVORCE

IRENE DALTON.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 11.—(AP)—Irene Dalton, actress, today was granted a divorce in Superior court from Lloyd Hamilton, screen comedian, whom she charged with staging "wild drinking parties" and striking her on one occasion. A cash property settlement of $1,250 was made. Today's hearing followed the appointment of a receiver for Hamilton yesterday on the complaint of his first wife, who alleged Hamilton was $7,500 behind in his alimony payments.

SOCIETY WOMAN FLYER KILLED; HUSBAND UNHURT

Long Beach, Cal., April 11.—(Special)—Mrs. Jessie McWhinney, 44, society woman and aviatrix, was instantly killed today, while her husband, Clyde McWhinney, past president of the California bar association, escaped unhurt when the J. N. D. 4 plane which McWhinney was piloting crashed at Long Beach municipal airport.

The motor died when the eleven year old wartime training biplane had risen about 100 feet in its takeoff. McWhinney, who was in the rear cockpit, tried desperately to make a landing but the plane fell backward.

REQUEST $90,000 TO MAKE ILLINOIS MANSION 'HOMEY'

House Bill Wants Old Dignity Restored.

(Picture on back page.)
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Springfield, Ill., April 11.—[Special.]
Among the appropriations asked of the Illinois general assembly in bills introduced in the house of representatives today was one described as follows:

The sum of $90,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary for the necessary material and labor to remodel and equip the state executive mansion to a state of condition and appearance becoming the use and dignity of the state of Illinois."

It was the taxpayers' bill for some of the incidentals in connection with the free grant of the use for eight years of the gubernatorial residence now in Springfield to one Len Small.

Given Every Penny Asked.

During that period Small was given, over and above the appropriations for repairs and for equipment, every penny he asked for maintenance, for repairs, and for equipment. The official inquiry has disclosed a lack of maintenance and repairs and absence of equipment.

This was not the decision of Small's successor, Gov. Louis L. Emmerson. In fact, the amount of the appropriation has been kept from the governor and Mrs. Emmerson. If they read this, it probably will be the first notice they have had of the amount of money thought necessary to bring the mansion back to the "becoming" condition in which Gov. Frank O. Lowden left it in 1920.

Lowden Spent Own Money.

Lowden, while governor, and his wife, Mrs. Florence Pullman Lowden, spent $25,000 or more from their private purses in addition to substantial state appropriations to bring the official residence up to a point where it was one of Springfield's pride; and they presented all the fine household equipment to the state when they went back to Mississippi farm.

But altered conditions were discovered when the inaugural reception of the new administration was held last January. And the neighbors whispered that when Mrs. Emmerson began to entertain she secretly had borrowed dishes for the accommodation of her guests. Such were the conditions that caused leaders of both houses to decide that something had to be done about it.

Make Estimate of Needs.

Therefore, the estimate of the fund needed to put the mansion into livable and presentable condition was the result of an inquiry and examination by representatives of the appropriate committees of the two houses.

Senator Harry G. Wright of the senate committee appointed Senator George A. Reynolds of Utica for the job of seeing things over and Chairman Edgar J. Tice, of the house, named Representative Callistus A. Jones of Pontiac. Both were considered conservative in money matters. They are connected with the matter as secretive today. It was said they were observing the Emmersons who are to give publicity to the inquiry and its disclosures. But it was known the governor's own estimate of funds needed for "repairs and equipment" was included in the regular appropriation bill for the governor's office and the mansion as $10,000 for the next two year period.

THREE SANITARY BOARD EMPLOYEES GO BEFORE JURY

Three employees of the sanitary district were called before the regular grand jury yesterday to testify regarding the routine procedure of payments, and the printing and distribution of the annual message of Timothy J. Crowe when he was president of the board. The Crowe message has been branded by the prosecutors as nothing more than a campaign document published at the expense of the taxpayers.

Harry Wallace, chief clerk of the district, was called upon to tell the jury of the system of payments and to produce original vouchers for the payment of the Crowe message. This document cost $125,000. Joe Kern, bid accountant, was another witness.

JURY DECIDES TEXAS GUINAN IS INNOCENT

Kisses, Cheers, and a Triumphal March!

which, of course, was an open car, did not start until the last foot of celluloid had been exposed. Tex blew kisses to the multitude as the car drew away at a funeral pace. One of her escorts announced: "Tex says she'll be at home to the reporters in her house in an hour."

Her Last Stretch on Stand.

Mary Louise Cecilia Guinan, as her name named her back in Waco, Tex., nobody knows exactly how many years ago, had to do her stuff again this morning in the witness chair before she tasted her great moment. She did not mind at all, though, for she had a new hat for the third day of her trial on a charge of maintaining a nuisance at the Salon Royale night club last spring. The hat was close fitting and elegant. It was black, for Tex has been in mourning for herself these last three days. There was one bit of jewelry missing from her nine pound ensemble—her watch—but La Guinan said she had just lost it some place, and it didn't matter much, anyhow.

Miss Guinan was in rare form when she resumed her place on the witness stand, but Judge Thomas was getting tired of the entire affair and frowned severely at the first witness.

He Warns the Audience.

"If any unseasonable manifestation of a feeling that this is a show is made I will order the room cleared," he threatened. It didn't make a bit of difference, though, for most of the audience could not understand multivocal words.

Prosecutor Morrison opened up by again asking Tex if she ever drank liquor.

"No, indeed," she replied. "I never took a drink of liquor in my life." La Guinan has posted a prize of $100,000 to any one who can prove that she ever took a drop of liquor.

The matter of the drunkard's dry snappers was circulating and floating in and out of the Salon Royale was gone into by Mr. Morrison.

"Such a story," smiled Miss Guinan. "My dear, I have seen more of football games and Sunday like races and in the theaters. I had no more reason to believe liquor was being sold there than in any other place."

La Guinan waved her half pound diamonds at the prosecutor and sniffed at her smelling salts.

Shudders at Word "Saloon."

"Didn't you once make a wise crack to the effect that Salon Royale was the French name for Salon Royal?" asked Mr. Morrison.

"A lousy gag like that," countered Tex, "no, no, I don't remember any such thing, but if I did I want to plead stupidity."

"You use the word 'sucker' in your business card a bit, don't you?" asked Mr. Morrison.

"Yes, as a gag," said the hostess, "just as you would say 'hello, pal.' But, my dear, there are plenty of suckers—I'm one of the biggest ones in the world. I've been done in oil before."

"Do you mean your warm, personal friends?"

"Some of them are suckers. But the word was always used in a spirit of fun."

And So Defense Rests.

The defense rested on the sucker note. There was a whisper of surprise from the prosecution table, for they had expected Miss Guinan to put on a long list of character witnesses. But Tex had been looking the jury and the situation over, and she felt she had given a good show. "Curtain," was her order to her attorney.

Mr. Lopin in his summation made much of "imported dry apples" and "confessed lars" and "imported a man who would lie about one thing."

Investigators for both houses of assembly backed proposal to appropriate $30,000 to restore executive mansion to "becoming" condition.

Attorney General Carleton advised surrender of Chicago sanitary district whopper records and told house committee it is sole judge of double pay-rollers.

NEW BILLS.—By Thompson, to entitle assemblymen, as principals or attorneys, to continuance of court cases until since the adjournment of legislative session, by Bohrer, to provide for psychoanalytical examination and classification of state convicts.

HOUSE.

Branson committee continues quia of members, with only two out of ten witnesses appearing.

NEW BILLS.—By Gaines, to give Negroes equal rights in restaurants and other public places; by Galvin, to create state racing commission and eliminate betting certificates; by Chynoweth, to authorize cities to regulate and prohibit electrical devices interfering with radio reception; by Parker, to require railroad stations to be kept open thirty minutes before and thirty minutes after train time; by Fahy, to authorize state auditor to license eldins stores.

would lie about another." He told the jury he did not believe the prosecution had any hope of convicting, and the jury almost nodded back at him.

Mr. Morrison was so sure and gentlemanly in his address to the jury that he won Miss Guinan completely.

"Why, he's a regular guy," she remarked. "He must come down some night."

"We are not out to get Miss Guinan," he said to the twelve men. "We do not accuse her of killing any one or robbing a bank. We just say she violated the national prohibition law. I think we have proved this and I hope you think so, too. I have prosecuted few women in my time and do not like to make any unkind remarks about them, but Miss Guinan with her personality and wise cracks has been dodging the arm of the law for a long time."

Tex's Attorney Objects.

Mr. Lopin was on his feet with an angry objection.

Judge Thomas was confused. He had not been listening and didn't know what Lopin was objecting to. The statement concerning dodging the arm of the law was read to him.

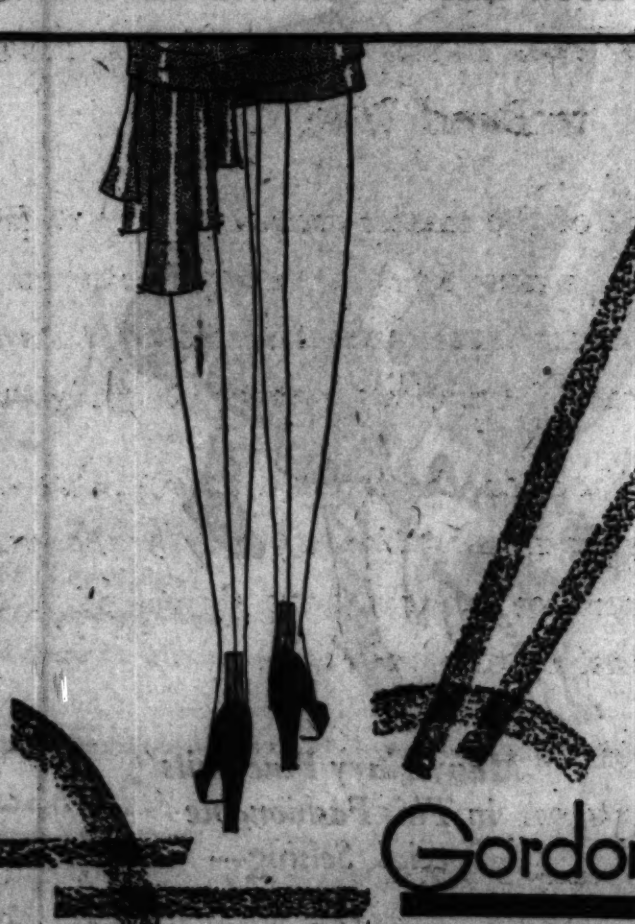

"Well," remarked the judge, "I want it stricken from the record," cried Lopin.

"Strike it out," said Judge Thomas, and thereupon turned his back to look out the window at the statue of Clive Virtue in City Hall park, nearby.

was long and ponderous. He delivered it standing and at first only the where-ans and therefores were audible in the press section. Finally, he hit his stride and proceeded to define a "nuisance" and what constituted "maintaining a nuisance." Most of the jury-men listened gravely, but two of them were no more interested than the judge was in the lawyers' summations.

He States It Briefly.

Toward the close Judge Thomas said rather curtly:

"If you believe that Miss Guinan did not know that liquor was served in the Salon Royale, then you must find her not guilty, but if you believe liquor was served with her knowledge, then you should find her guilty."

The jury filed out to purge its collective mind of champagne in pitchers and Scotch and eye at the Salon Royale. Miss Guinan threw a few kisses to some one on a back seat and then retired to await a verdict.

ALLIES TO GIVE PAY UP FIGURE TO BERLIN TODAY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, April 11.—The chief creditors of Germany among the allied powers, France, Britain, Belgium, and Italy, under the guidance of Chairman Owen D. Young, this afternoon practically reached an accord on the demands for reparations. Another final meeting is scheduled for tomorrow morning to wind up a few outstanding points, and in the afternoon the bill may be presented to Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, leader of the German delegates.

Depending upon whether the demands are too high or reasonable, Dr. Schacht will either ask for an adjournment and proceed to Berlin to submit them to the German government or take up the matter by telephone from Paris.

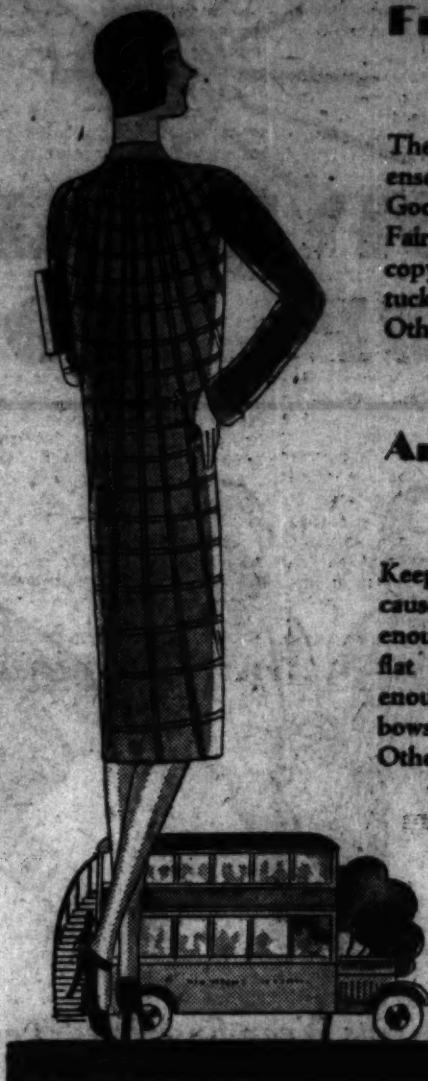

It is naturally expected that Dr. Schacht will have certain questions to ask and suggestions to make regarding the allies' findings before accepting them, but it is generally believed the Germans will not try to haggle or bargain further, as the fact that Mr. Young was present and endorsed the allied proposals is taken as an indication that they are reasonable and well within the German government's capacity to pay.

WOMAN SENDS HIM TO BRIDEWELL.

Charged with making improper advances to Mrs. Anna Hirsch, 3451 Lincoln avenue, Martin Stuchak, 30 years old, 3848 North Damen avenue, was sent to the jail yesterday by Judge Joseph L. McCarthy in the Town Hall court to work out a $50 fine.

BLAST DESTROYS 3 BUILDINGS IN DETROIT; 1 DEAD

Fire Delays Search of Ruins for Bodies.

Detroit, Mich., April 11.—[Special.]—One person was known to have been killed, several injured, and an unknown number of bodies are feared to be buried in the wreckage of a mysterious explosion which leveled three four-story brick buildings on the south side of Jefferson avenue, this city, between Randolph and Bates streets, at 8 o'clock tonight, causing damage estimated to exceed half a million dollars.

The blast shook the downtown district, striking panic into hundreds of pedestrians near the scene and sending occupants of nearby buildings into the streets in frenzied flight. Plate glass windows for blocks were broken.

Looters at Work.

As firemen struggled to quench the flames which broke out immediately in the ruins, and police reserves arrived to help keep back the crowds and help seek through the wreckage for bodies, looters gained entrance to adjoining floors and thousands of dollars worth of silks and other merchandise was believed to have been carried away.

Police and firemen feared that persons employed in the buildings who had not yet left their work for the night, might have been caught in the explosion and buried under the falling walls. One body was taken from the ruins a few moments after firemen arrived. It was that of an unidentified man about 40 years old.

Hebert Tallon, head of the Tallon Furniture company, 215 Woodward avenue, was reported to have been in the building when the explosion occurred. His wife was at the scene of the blast late tonight, frantically begging firemen to reassure her that her husband had not been caught in the ruins.

Cause of Blast Mystery.

The cause of the explosion, the exact Detroit has experienced in war, was still a mystery late tonight. The Blackhand squad traced a rumor that a disgruntled customer had made threats to blow up one of the places, but the theory was abandoned.

Firemen's efforts to dig into the ruins for bodies were made impossible for hours after they arrived because of the heat from the burning wreckage, the dense smoke, and the clouds of steam. Chief Stephen J. Demay said it was doubtful if firemen could be certain before late today whether any additional person was caught under the falling bricks and timbers.

The death toll, in any event, would have been much greater but for the fact that the catastrophe occurred a few minutes after most, if not all, of the employees of the concerns housed in the buildings had left work.

The firms involved included the Auto Supply company, the Burke Furniture company, the Detroit Lighting and Fixture company, and the I. Scheltzer Wholesale Dry Goods company.

U. S. DECLINES TO WATCH CANADIAN DOCKS FOR LIQUOR

Washington, D. C., April 11.—[AP.]—Treasury department officials said today that the offer by the Canadian government to permit this government to station customs inspectors on Canadian public docks would be declined, as had been an identical offer during the anti-smuggling conference in Canada last winter. The offer was declined at that conference, officials said, because this government believed it could derive no benefit from stationing inspectors on the Canadian docks.

MEXICAN REBEL ARMY CUT IN HALF BY GEN. ALMAZAN

Insurgent Chiefs Meet for Council of War.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MEXICO CITY, April 11.—The enormous hosts of Gen. Escobar, commander in chief of the Mexican rebel armies, at the battle of Jimenes and La Reforma are shown in a statement issued from Chapultepec castle today.

The statement bears out Gen. Calles' assertion the day after the battle of La Reforma that the rebels were so badly decimated as to make impossible future resistance on the uplands of Mexico.

Gen. Escobar, lost in wounded, dead and captured more than half his forces. At the opening of the battle of Corralitos, Gen. Escobar had on the battlefield and in reserve at Jimenes upward of 8,000 men, counting numerous recruits sent south by Gen. Juan Caraveo from the state of Chihuahua.

When Gen. Escobar reached Chihuahua City he had less than 3,000 men. Gen. Escobar, all along the line of retreat, from Corralitos to Jimenes, from Jimenes to La Reforma, and from there to Chihuahua City, lost many hundreds more in dispersed and deserters.

Rebel Losses Broadcast.

Gen. Juan Almazan broadcast the rebel losses by means of leaflets scattered over all the important towns and cities in the state of Chihuahua.

The proclamations said that at Jimenes and La Reforma alone the rebels lost 1,136 dead and 2,088 prisoners, not counting desertions and dispersal from the rebel ranks.

Gen. Almazan gives the lie to Gen. Escobar's statements, broadcast over all the rebel territory, that all officers and men of the rebel forces captured by the federal army were executed when taken, without the formalities of a trial.

Gen. Almazan calls on all the people of Chihuahua, especially the laboring classes, to rise against the rebels and aid the government in the task of putting down completely the revolution and restoring law and order.

Word from the state of Sinaloa says that hundreds of rebel dispersals and deserters have presented themselves in Mazatlan asking to be reinstated in the federal army.

Among the numerous rebel prisoners taken a large percentage have also asked to be reinstated.

Rebel Chiefs Hold War Council.

Nogales, Ariz., April 11.—(U.P.)—Authoritative reports reaching here today said that the principal military

AN UNSUNG HERO OF MEXICAN REVOLT IS MEDICAL CORPS CHIEF

MEXICO CITY, April 11.—(U.P.)—A pleasant little man in civilian dress, Gen. Enrique C. O'Gorman, who had trailed Gen. Calles' troops from Mexico City to Chihuahua with nothing to do, came into prominence after the battle of Jimenes and La Reforma.

This man, whose genial smile is known from one end of Mexico to the other, "El Doctorcito" or "the little doctor," as the soldiers refer to him, is chief of the federal medical corps.

He had more than five hundred wounded on his hands after Gen. Almazan routed the insurgents and for three days worked like a Trojan, personally attending the most urgent cases, supervising the work of his corps of assistants and looking to the entrainment of the hundreds of bullet-riddled and bayonet-slashed troopers, mostly rebels, who were rushed to the army's base hospitals at Monterrey, Torreon, and Aguascalientes.

Gen. O'Gorman never wears a uniform. He is a veteran campaigner, well past the half century mark in age. The fact that he is a medical man does not prevent him from being a fighter and scarce a war in Mexico's revolutionary career has not known the stamp of "El Doctorcito's" horse over its battlefield.

leaders of the Mexican revolution have assembled at Cananea, Sonora, for a council of war.

At the conference, the reports said, were Gen. J. G. Escobar, commander in chief of the revolutionary troops; Gen. Francisco Madero, commander of the Sinaloa front; Gen. Fausto Topete, commander of the troops facing Naco, Sonora, and his brother, Ricardo, and Gen. Ramon Yucupio, Yaqui Indian leader.

Almazan Prepares to March North.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mexico, April 11.—(U.P.)—The army of Gen. Juan Almazan, which occupied this city on the heels of the fleeing rebels, prepared tonight to advance northward as part of the general federal troop movement toward Sonora, where the forces of the revolution now are concentrated.

Federal cavalry and airmen have advised their chief it would be impossible to overtake the retreating rebels short of the Sonora border, so there was no prospect of immediate fighting.

Federals Bomb San Blas.

Nogales, Ariz., April 11.—(U.P.)—Reports reaching rebel headquarters here tonight said that federal forces advancing on the west coast of Mexico made a severe air attack on San Blas, Sinaloa, today.

According to the reports, the bombing was so heavy that employees of the Southern Pacific de Mexico railroad were forced to abandon their posts and flee.

U. S. Sends Artillery to Naco.

Naco, Ariz., April 11.—(U.P.)—United States artillery was being moved toward Naco tonight, ready to protect American lives and property should Mexican rebels open an artillery attack on the entrenched federals at Naco, Sonora.

The American move began at the same time as the rebels rolled four 75 millimeter guns into their camp facing Naco.

Demand Release of American.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—(U.P.)—American consular officers on the Mexican border have been instructed by the state department to demand the immediate release of Al Conces, a young El Paso airplane mechanic, who was reported to have been kidnapped by the Mexican rebels on evacuating Juarez.

Need $16,000,000 to Put Mexican Lines in Shape.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MEXICO CITY, April 11.—It was stated semi-officially today that the international bankers' commission, headed by F. A. Mottler, which has just adjourned after having considered for months every phase of damage suffered by the National Railways of Mexico throughout the years of revolution and administration by the government, has reported to the government and also to the bankers' commission that the railways will need $16,000,000 to put them in the same condition of efficiency as they were before the outbreak of the first revolution in 1910.

With this money, which must be provided by the Mexican government, the railways would be able to purchase rolling stock, including modern engines, and be in a position to carry on efficient traffic.

SHOT FIRED AT CHARLIE GENKER? NO, POLICE TOLD

"Monkey Face" Charlie Genker, an old-time developer, was transacting business in his Halsted street hardware store when shotgun slugs splattered the entrance leading to his apartment at 7315 Sheridan road last evening. That, at least, was his story to the police.

The ground floor tenant in the three-story building, started by two blasts, telephoned the Rogers Park station.

The tenant told Capt. Patrick Harding he saw a man fleeing up the stairs an instant after the shots roared. Genker occupies the third floor flat, the police being vague.

"Assaulted, me? What for?" scoffed Genker. "I have no enemies. I'm not in the boom racket. Why, I was in my hardware store at 406 South Halsted street when the shots were fired. They must have been after another fellow."

Genker's hardware store, the police say, is a disorderly house which has frequently been raided. Genker admitted he expects to change his residence within a few weeks.

CHARGES FORMER WOMAN JUSTICE WITH EXTORTION

Caught in Home by Uncle, Politician Claims.

John M. Carr, former justice of the peace in Galesburg, was charged with extortion in an affidavit presented to Circuit Judge David M. Brothman yesterday by D. E. Sullivan, railroad engineer and politician of Galesburg, against whom he secured a judgment of $24,500 last January. Sullivan alleges he was forced to sign a $25,000 note to Miss Carr when he was found in her home by an uncle, David Farrell, two years ago.

Miss Carr, who is 30 years old, is a former student of Knox college at Galesburg, and was elected justice of the peace in 1925. In August, 1927, she secretly married George Lewis, whom she had once fined on a charge of intoxication in her court. She obtained a divorce on a charge of cruelty fourteen months later. She resumed her office in 1928.

Her Political Adviser, He Says.

Sullivan, who is 47 years old, is known as one of Galesburg's wealthiest men, and is connected with a building and loan association there. In his affidavit he declares he has known Miss Carr since she was a girl, and has often given her political advice.

On Sept. 8, 1927, he called at her home, at her request, to confer on a political question, he avers. Miss Carr greeted him clad in a kimono, he charges. While they were talking the door opened, armed with a five inch knife, and demanded that Sullivan sign the note because he had compromised the niece, Sullivan's affidavit alleges. Several days later, after Sullivan had paid $1,500 on the note, Farrell is said to have called the affair a mistake and announced that the note was destroyed.

Gets Stay of Execution.

Last January Judge Brothman entered a judgment on the note. Sullivan asserts that he was not served with the writ and that he knew nothing of it. Yesterday the judge issued a stay of execution and gave Sullivan ten days to file a plea.

Miss Carr, through her attorneys, Stanley, Weinfield & Parker, denied the charges in the affidavit. The note was given as a payment for her resignation of office by Sullivan, who was interested in her leaving Galesburg for political reasons, they said.

CANADIAN HOUSE IN UPROAR VOTES FOR U. S. TRADE

Defeats Plan to Give British Goods Preference.

BY GEORGE SMITH.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

(Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 11.—Jews and cheers, boos, desk thumping and an invitation to a fight interrupted the budget division proceedings in the Canadian house of commons this evening after the Mackenzie King government supporters had voted down Progressive and Conservative amendments to the Robb budget proposals.

The Progressive amendment, urging an increase in the tariff preference granted British made goods, was beaten 115 votes to 19, when Conservatives and Liberals combined against the handful of Progressives and Laborites.

The Conservative amendment, lamenting the absence of "safeguards" for the "protection" of agriculture and industry, which really means higher tariff, was beaten 127 votes to 65. Liberals, Progressives and Laborites combined on this division against the Conservatives.

Denounces "Hush, Hush" Policy.

Before the division on the main motion for the acceptance of the Robb budget could be taken, Robert Manion, fiery Ontario Conservative, interjected the speech which occasioned the commons tumult—the worst since the hectic days of 1926, when the Meighan and Mackenzie King governments were somersaulting in and out of power day by day.

Mr. Manion could not commence for Liberal witticisms cast at him, good naturedly enough at the outset. He got under way, uttering a sentence at a time between Liberal demonstrations, and his biting criticisms of what he alleged to be the prime minister's policy of "hush, hush" toward the United States finally evoked tense bitterness.

The prime minister was on his feet, flushed with anger, half a dozen times, but the din and clamor from rival groups of supporters rendered the words of the two protagonists unintelligible most of the time.

Says Premier Has Cold Feet.

"I like the United States but I love Canada," shouted Mr. Manion at the top of his voice, denouncing the government's United States tariff policy statement.

Mr. Manion was the member who demanded a "red-blooded" Canadian response to the supposedly impending United States tariff changes. Premier Mackenzie King the other day satirized on "red-blooded" and declared for a "cool-headed" Canadian attitude. And today Mr. Manion vehemently declared that the only cold head was a dead head; the prime minister apparently had got his extremities mixed, and inferentially by reason of his tariff attitude toward the United States, had developed cold feet.

This thrust was cheered to the echo by the Conservatives, who frequently criticize the prime minister's absence from Canada during the war.

Another of Mr. Manion's bitter complaints against the prime minister which aroused frenzy was that the latter had vigorously declared against mixing the St. Lawrence seaway and Canadian-American trade matters in international deliberations, although, said Mr. Manion, the prime minister was the very one to make "salad" of the two issues in his correspondence with the United States government.

"Sit Down" and "Shut Up."

The conflict and the din grew even fiercer and louder when Jean Poullet, Quebec Liberal, tried to answer Mr. Manion. "Sit down" and "Shut up" were expressions, flung across the floor.

And when Eccles Gott, Ontario Conservative, raised a point of order and was told to do both he invited the French Liberal interrupter to come over and make him sit down. The speaker tried in vain to quell the disturbances, but only the six o'clock dinner hour stopped the demonstrations.

The house later tonight, by a vote of 107 to 22, carried the Robb budget.

The Conservatives and Progressives voted solidly against the government, with the exception of Mr. Acheson, Calgary Laborite, and Mr. Jelliffe, American born Progressive from Alberta, who voted with the government. The Canadian government merchant marine report, tabled today, shows an operating loss in 1928 of $1,200,000, as compared with $721,000 operating loss in 1927.

Catts Must Give Bond Twice; First Held Illegal

Pensacola, Fla., April 11.—(AP)—Sidney J. Catts, former governor of Florida, indicted for aiding and abetting a counterfeiting ring, attempted to post $17,500 bond before United States Commissioner Milton in Marianna yesterday, it was learned today. The bond was made but federal official said it was void since there was no warrant for arrest in the hands of the Marianna commissioner.

The capias for Catts' arrest arrived at the office of the United States marshal here today and will be forwarded to Marianna. The marshal said Catts would have to surrender and post bond anew.

HOOVER BLOCKS PLAN TO CHANGE FARM PROGRAM

Refuses to Back Optional Debt Scheme.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
Washington, D. C., April 11.—(Special.)—President Hoover refused today to give encouragement to a proposal to include an optional export debt scheme in the farm relief bill.

A subcommittee of the senate committee on agriculture visited the President at the White House to sound him out on the proposition. The subcommittee had been instructed by the full committee earlier in the day to inquire whether the President would approve a provision giving the proposed farm board authority to use the export debt scheme as an alternative in case the handling of surplus farm products through stabilization corporations proved ineffective.

Stands by Platform.

While the President did not flatly reject the proposal, it was made evident that he is not likely to favor it. The President informed the senators that he could not give an official opinion on the matter, not having given it extended thought. Mr. Hoover pointed out, however, that the debt scheme had not been considered in formulating party policies while framing the Republican platform and that it had not been discussed in the campaign. Those remarks of the President were construed as meaning that he regarded it as outside of the program for farm relief as pledged by the Republican party.

The President expressed willingness to have department of agriculture experts give such information as they have regarding the export debt scheme and to have the question fully considered.

Norris Offered Scheme.

The export debt scheme as suggested to the President is based on the proposal of the National Grange and is, in effect, a government bounty for the exportation of farm products. On the basis of a bounty equal to one-half the tariff duty on the same product, full application of the scheme would cost the treasury upwards of 150 million dollars annually. Debtors would be issued to exporters of farm products and could be sold to importers who would use them in payment of customs duties. It is claimed on behalf of the scheme that it would assure farmers the world market price

JUSTICE STONE PLAYS CABINET MEDICINE BALL LIKE FOOTBALL

Washington, D. C., April 11.—(Special.)—The judicial temperament of Associate Justice Stone of the Supreme court is unimpeachable but at times he displays a physical violence which literally blows the wind out of those about him.

The former Amherst football center is a member of President Hoover's "medicine ball cabinet," and the speed and force he puts behind the ball at times is reported to be a little severe on the receiving power of some other members of this cabinet.

The President himself, while never knocked down by one of the justice's powerful throws, is said to have had the wind knocked out of him on occasion, and Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, who joined in the early morning games while a guest at the White House recently, bore for several days a mark on his nose as a result of getting in the way of one of Mr. Stone's throws.

for their products plus the export bounty.

The proposal for including the export debt scheme as an alternative in the farm relief bill was made by Senator George W. Norris (Rep., Neb.). The senate committee on agriculture was unable to reach an agreement on the matter owing to lack of information as to how President Hoover would view a bill of this character. The subcommittee, which went to the White House to find out was composed of Senators Charles L. McNary (Rep., Ore.), Peter Norbeck (Rep., S. D.), Arthur Capper (Rep., Kas.), Joseph E. Ransdell (Dem., Ia.), and J. Thomas Heflin (Dem., Ala.).

In view of the President's attitude, the senate committee is expected to vote down the export debt scheme and report a bill closely following the Hoover program for a farm board, stabilization corporations, and a fund for loans to the corporations and to cooperatives.

Main Provisions Learned.

The drafting subcommittee of the house committee on agriculture completed its work today, reaching an unanimous agreement upon the draft of a bill. Members of the subcommittee believe that it is in complete accord with the declaration of the Republican platform and with the ideas of President Hoover.

They will take copies of the bill tomorrow to President Hoover and to Secretary of Agriculture Hyde. If it is approved, the bill will be reported to the full committee on Saturday and will be introduced in the house next week.

While details of the house committee bill were not made public, it was learned that its principal provisions are the following:

Creation of a federal farm board composed of the secretary of agriculture and six members appointed by the President.

Vesting of authority in the President to fix the salary of the chairman of the board; the other five members to receive $12,000 a year.

No restrictions of a geographical or partisan character to be imposed on the President in naming members of the board.

Broad powers to be granted to the board to work out policies for dealing with the farm surplus problem.

Advisory councils dealing with different commodities to be set up by the board.

Stabilization corporations to handle surpluses by purchase and storage to await better market conditions to be organized under the control of cooperatives.

Loans to be made by the board of the corporations and to cooperatives from a 300 million dollar revolving fund.

Hyde's Suggestion Rejected.

The farm board is to be independent of the department of agriculture, notwithstanding the suggestion by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde that it might be preferable to create the board as part of the department in order to have the complete cooperation of the departmental bureaus. The farm organizations prefer an independent board and the subcommittee members accepted their view of it.

If President Hoover, however, insists upon locating the board within the department, the subcommittee will make a change in the bill to conform to his idea.

As the bill now stands, the secretary of agriculture will be a member of the board but will not dominate it, the chairman being one of the appointed members.

The old McNary-Haugen bill vetoed by President Coolidge created a board of twelve members, with a requirement that one be selected from each of the twelve federal land bank districts from nominations submitted by farm organizations. The board proposed in the new bill will be smaller and the President will not be restricted in making the appointments.

Farmers Assured Control.

One provision of the new bill, which was perfected to meet the desires of cooperatives, relates to organization of the stabilization corporations. It is stipulated that the stock in the corporations shall be owned by the co-

GRAND JURY IGNORES ONE MAN EVIDENCE IN JONES LAW CASES

San Francisco, Cal., April 11.—(Special.)—The federal grand jury here made it known today that it would not return indictments under the Jones law on the uncorroborated testimony of a prohibition agent.

It was announced that because of the heavy penalties provided in the Jones law for liquor violations no such indictments would be returned unless two or more prohibition agents give evidence of having bought liquor from the person accused.

In five liquor cases the jury returned only two indictments. Persons involved in the three other cases were freed because only one prohibition agent testified in each.

United States District Attorney George Hatfield said:

"The grand jury is simply taking the stand which I have all along advocated, that it will not indict under the Jones law on uncorroborated 'busts'."

operatives, to prevent grain exchanges, packers, or other groups handling farm products, from getting control of the stabilization corporations, which under the declaration of the Republican platform are to be "farmer owned and controlled."

"The house bill, while it follows the general lines of the McNary bill pending before the senate committee, is different in numerous details and provides broader authority upon the farm board. The McNary bill provides for a revolving fund of 300 millions dollars, of which 225 million dollars are to be used in loans to the stabilization corporation for the purpose of buying and selling surplus farm commodities the balance being allotted to loans for other specified purposes. The new house bill permits loans for these various purposes within the discretion of the farm board, but does not attempt to specify how much shall be used for each purpose.

Among the varieties of loans is an authorization for loans for the purchase or construction of physical facilities for the marketing of farm products.

EFFORT MADE TO KILL WORKER IN KENOSHA'S FEUD

Kenosha, Wis., April 11.—(Special.)

New outbreaks in Kenosha's labor dispute occurring during the last week reached a climax here today when an occupant of a car that sped past the home of Alfred Arents, 21 year old Allen A. Knitter, as the latter was putting his car into his garage, fired a bullet that went through Arents's hat, but without injuring him.

Arents chased the car down the street, but the license plate was smeared with mud, and he could not identify the car or the occupants.

Police questioned a young man owning a similar car, but he presented a convincing alibi and was released.

It was the fourth outbreak this week. Last Monday windows in the home of four Allen A. employees, including the home of John Brine, superintendent of the company, were smashed by bricks. Tuesday night a shot was fired into the window of the home of Sigmund Glowacki, a striker, and last night windows in two more homes of Allen A. workers were smashed by bricks.

The knitters' union announced today that it would demand protection from the city council at its meeting Monday night. On Tuesday a group of twenty-five strikers will go to Madison to parade as "good will picketers" at the state capitol as a protest against passage of Bill 47-8, which would provide a fund of $10,000 for a Kenosha county grand jury investigation, which they are opposing.

The Allen A. labor dispute is now fifteen months old, and has resulted in a large number of cases of violence, of bombing, of arrests, and of court failures to adjust the difficulties.

ROSTOV—IT'S THE TOUGHEST CITY IN SOVIET RUSSIA

20 Robberies a Night—
Even Take Your Pants.

(This is the sixth of a series of articles on conditions in Russia under communist rule. Mr. Rasumny is the first correspondent to visit Rostov-on-Don since the Reds have ruled Russia.)

BY MARK RASUMNY.

(Chicago Tribune From Moscow.)
ROSTOV-ON-DON, April 11.—About twenty-four hours' railroad travel from Kharkov is another large town, Rostov, the capital of the northern Caucasian Soviet Republic. Rostov is situated in a beautiful location on the banks of the broad Don river, at the point where it flows into the Azov sea. The city today has a population of 350,000, and is considered, after Moscow and Kharkov, the liveliest city in Russia.

As other Russian cities, the population is largely formed of country dwellers, but, like other Russian cities on the Black sea coast, it contains many Levantines, Greeks, Italians, Gruzians, Turks, and Armenians, and even some French.

The water front is lively, as hundreds of ships call every year to transport Russian coal abroad. The streets are filled with little saloons, and these are filled with sailors. Rostov is a wide open town. It resembles to a great extent the southern European harbor cities.

An Industrial Center.

Rostov is also an industrial center. It has many large factories and small works. The larger factories produce metal goods, the smaller ones turn out textiles and tobacco products.

Not far from the city is Schakhtinsk, a coal mining center, which achieved world fame last summer when it arrested the administration staff of its mines for sabotage and sent them to trial in Moscow, where six of the fifty-three defendants were shot and the majority of the remainder received long terms of imprisonment.

Formerly Rostov administered Schakhtinsk and the other mining centers, Artemovsk (formerly Bachmut), Stalino (formerly Hrushevskij), and Lugansk. The mines are controlled by the Donbas (Don coal mining trust) whose head offices are in Kharkov. Rostov has no longer any connection with the mines except that the major portion of the coal is transported to this city for shipment abroad.

New Dangerous Town in Russia.

The inhabitants of Rostov are lively, happy, and dangerous. The people have much eastern blood. It is known as the most dangerous town in Russia is to be out walking after nightfall, and well-dressed people are warned to remain near their homes in the evening. The daily paper reports an average of ten to twenty robberies every night. The thieves are not content with your watch and pocketbook. They compel you to surrender your hat, overcoat, and even your suit and shoes.

IT IS WRITTEN—

THE SIGN—

MATTER HERE."

While there I dropped in to call on the chief of police, who proudly showed me his collection of knives, revolvers, fuzes, garroting cords and a number of other articles which highwaymen used in following their art.

Rostov, said the chief, has the best organized gangs of criminals in all Russia and his force has no reason to complain about lack of work. Murderers, when captured, seldom come to trial. They are turned over to the Cheka, which shoots them.

There were also more homeless children in this city than in the others I visited. The climate is much milder than in central Russia and the harbor never freezes. The majority of the children were dressed in old burkap sacks. They poked their arms and heads through holes and tied the sack around them with a piece of rope. They pilfer the pockets of the drunkards who lie in the streets and have also organized themselves into gangs to rob the wharves, the steamers and the markets.

Plenty of Food in Rostov.

Regarding food, Rostov is in a much better position than the other cities. Lines are more rarely seen in the streets and the markets are filled with food, specially varieties of fish caught in the Azov sea. The fat, oil back of the dried sturgeon, the red fish, and other delicacies were extremely cheap.

The longest lines ranged themselves in front of the government vodka shops, especially on pay day, which is Saturday. Later in the evening the streets are filled with drunks sleeping off their fags in the gutter or on doorsteps. If a pall of water falls to awake them a policeman lifts them into a droska, and they are carried away to the police station to be released the next morning after the payment of a fine. Russia has no patrol wagons. The arrested man or woman is either compelled to walk to the nearest police station or, if they refuse, a wagon is commandeered.

The inhabitants are also better dressed than the people in Moscow or Kharkov. This was not due to more goods being placed on sale by the cooperatives, but to the activities of the crews of the ships who carry on an active smuggling trade with the inhabitants despite the strong customs control.

Hotel Service De Luxe.

The hotel visitor in Rostov is in a tragicomic position. First, you are surrounded by various agents whose duty is to follow each newcomer, reporting whom he visits, searching his baggage in his absence from the hotel, and seeing if he is really coupled with the matter which is written in detail in his visa.

But this spying is nothing compared with the service at the hotel. To ring ten times, more violently each time, for a little hot water to shave in the morning and to have a slatternly looking girl slouch into your room and ask scornfully, "What are you ringing for, there isn't any fire," is your first experience with the servants.

In the lobby there is a glaring sign asking you please to make complaints if you have any fault to find with the service. If you do make a complaint you will never see that make again until you search for her and give her a couple of rubles as a peace offering. It seems that the servants, and not the management, take charge of the complaint book.

If you have money enough to stop at a government hotel, then you are classed as a capitalistic bourgeois who is fair game for every proletarian worker. From the moment you arrive in the hotel you are regarded as a milch cow. First you must pay the porter a little graft for his consent to your becoming a guest. Then you are taxed for a whole row of "services" which do not exist. Every morning you ask for your bill and pay it. If you forget to do this, 50 percent is demanded in addition for house necessities. I was never able to discover just what "house necessities" covered.

All hotels in Russia are administered by the "Compos" (department of communal economy). But these nationalized hotels are not kept exclusively for the traveling public. There are far too few of them. To utilize space going to waste the Compos has assigned a number of rooms in each hotel to workers' families. The hotel also has its housing crisis, as an absence of discipline and absenteeism are many. Drunkenness is common and accidents are frequent. The administration attempts to correct these evils and workers have been discharged. But repressions have not helped and the antagonism between the government and the workers is increasing.

The conditions in the mining industry are especially typical for all industry in Russia. The miners have for years been held up to the working class as true class conscious proletarians, and the production of the mines has always been given as an example for the other industries to emulate.

Coal Mining on Decline.

I tried for a week in Rostov to obtain some accurate figures on the mining industry, but I was unable to obtain an interview. Nobody wished to be interviewed. Everybody passed the buck to some one else. I decided to leave the hotel before they placed me in a sanitarium. The personnel was overjoyed at my departure. The permanent guests even smiled a farewell. And, sitting up in the crowded compartment of the railroad car which brought me to Kharkov, I had a good night's sleep.

Mr. Rasumny's story will be continued in a later issue of The Tribune.

WILLIAM S. BROCK,
Aviation Endurance Record
Holder of America

The year of 1927 was notable for its many spectacular flights. Few flights stand out in greater relief than that of William S. Brock, who in company with Edward F. Schlee, a Detroit oil man, attempted to circumnavigate the earth for a record in time. One of the outstanding incidents of this flight was the non-stop crossing of the Atlantic, from Newfoundland to London, England, the last successful ocean crossing of this year of special transoceanic flights. Although discouraged at having to discontinue their World Flight at Tokyo, it being too hazardous to attempt a crossing of the Pacific, they returned to Detroit to lay plans for other aerial adventures.

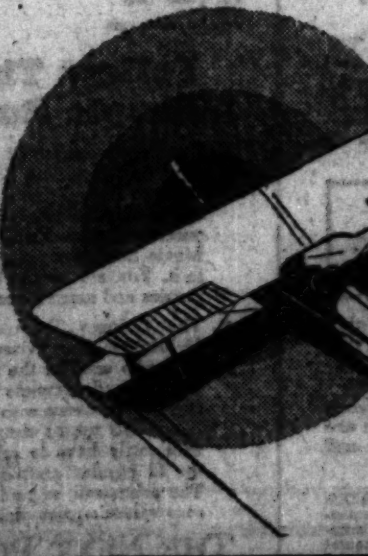

In March of 1928, Edward Stinson and George Haldeman, in a Stinson plane, established an American record for endurance in Florida, sustaining themselves continuously for 53 hours and 36 minutes.

Brock and Schlee determined to better this record, and on September 29th at 6:45 A. M. they took off in a Ballou plane from Rockwell Field, San Diego. Owing to the tremendous fuel load, a run of seven-eighths of a mile was necessary to obtain flying speed sufficient to lift the plane in the air. This same load hazard forced the flyers to guide their plane for considerable distance over the ocean before sufficient altitude was obtained to safely bank the plane for a turn and settle down for an endurance test.

After having bettered the mark set by Stinson and Haldeman it is thought a leak in their fuel line caused them to land through lack of fuel, at 6:22 P. M., October 1st, having flown continuously for 59 hours and 18 minutes, thereby establishing a new American record for sustained flight.

At the start their plane, equipped with a Wright Whirlwind Motor of 220 H.P., weighed 6,150 lbs., inclusive of 650 gals. of fuel and 21 gals. of oil.

POLICE WILL RIDE FORTH IN BRIGHT YELLOW FLIVVERS

Adopt Canary Coat to Make Cops Conspicuous.

Bright yellow flivvers are to take the place of detective bureau squad cars and motorcycle sidecars on the police department, it was announced yesterday by Commissioner Russell. He has ordered a hundred of the light touring cars with the novel paint jobs for delivery in July.

"We are putting the police automobiles in uniform," said the commissioner. "Patrolling the city, they will have the same effect in reducing crime as does the presence on a street of a uniformed policeman."

Equipped with Radio.

The big squad cars used by the detective bureau will also be painted yellow. They will be reduced in number from 85 to 25.

All of the new cars are to be equipped with radio receiving sets to receive police orders broadcast through the cooperation of the Tribune station, W-G-N.

"I am hoping this summer that the city will buy a broadcasting station of its own," said the commissioner. "The W-G-N has demonstrated the efficacy of radio control of roving police squads."

Cars to Be Conspicuous.

To take full advantage of the radio in police work would keep a broadcasting station occupied. It is too much to expect a station that is devoted to entertaining the public.

The yellow color for the cars was adopted to make the automobiles as conspicuous as possible. At present, a dark blue or black is the color of the police machines. A layman, searching for a policeman, would not notice one of the cars.

FOUND DEAD AT DESK.

Charles Olson, 65 years old, 7215 Cornell street, was found dead at his desk yesterday in the office of the Chicago Bell company in the Adams-Franklin building. His wife said he had been suffering from heart disease.

CUTTEN'S MAGIC WAND WAITS ON HOME TOWN'S AID

Guelph Tenants Balk Hotel Plans.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

GUELPH, Ontario, April 11.—Mr. Cutten wants a hotel designed by the architect who designed the Blackstone and Drake hotels of Chicago, and built with as fine materials as money can buy. It will have to cooperate with the man who is willing to build it. So says Arthur W. Cutten, multi-millionaire capitalist, who plans to give a million dollars to his home town.

Tonight in the quiet sitting room of the home in Guelph which he left as a boy of eighteen to seek his fortune across the line, he discussed the plans for this gift. These plans include a hotel, a golf course on which any resident may play, and playgrounds for the use of the youth of the city.

Up to City to Help.

"How soon is the hotel going to be built?"

"That," replied Mr. Cutten, "is the question. You see there are four tenants in a building on the property which I have purchased for the hotel. They have long leases and they seem to be opposed to moving. I cannot make them get out, so it is up to the people of Guelph. If they want a hotel which I am willing to build, then it is up to them to bring these people to time. I think the people of Guelph want the hotel. If so, they should not be held up by these few who stand in the way."

"No attempt at profits."

When the hotel which is to be managed by the Canadian Pacific railway. There will be no attempt to make it pay. Future profits are not among his worries, Mr. Cutten said. The Ontario government will act with the city fathers as joint trustees of the gift. The government is interested because of the playgrounds to be opened for the benefit of the students at the Ontario Agricultural college as well as Guelph citizens. Guelph is a sleepy little city 50 miles from Toronto. The gift from Mr. Cutten is the second it has received in the last six months. Edward Johnston, world famous tenor, recently gave $100,000 to provide free singing teaching to all the pupils of his native city.

ROBBERY NOT LUCRATIVE.

Lewis E. Lawe, warden of Sing Sing prison, recently stated that the average robbery committed in 1927 yielded the robber only $30.75.

"Skinny" Women! Quick! Gain Weight—and Charm with New Ironized Yeast

Easy Way to Gain 5 to 15 Pounds in Few Weeks. Your Own Druggist Guarantees Results or Pay Nothing

No Excuse for "Skinny." Starved Looking Body; Ugly Hollows or Pinched, Haggard Face. Here's a Quick Way to Gain Weight; Clear Your Skin; Get new Pep; Look and Feel Years Younger.

DON'T let a "skinny" body, scrawny neck, ugly hollows and bony limbs ruin your charm. Start taking Ironized Yeast today. It adds 5 to 15 pounds often in a few short weeks.

Letters pour in here daily, reporting quick gains in weight from taking Ironized Yeast. Some of these writers had eaten heavily of creams, sweets and starches for years without adding a single pound. Then Ironized Yeast accomplished its weight-building wonders for them—quickly—after other methods had failed.

Ironized Yeast puts good, solid flesh on "skinny," scrawny bodies; fills up ugly hollows; rounds out stringy necks; puts youthful plumpness in sunken cheeks; gives a new suppleness to "bronzed" legs and arms. It also gives you new strength and energy and tones up nerves. Users write that they feel years younger and look it.

How and Why IRONIZED YEAST Works Quick Wonders

Ironized yeast is two great tonics in one: Weight-building YEAST and strengthening, blood-enriching IRON.

The Yeast is Brewer's Yeast—the kind physicians prescribe to build weight and clear the skin. It is the kind used in making malt and which makes most breads. Being a dry yeast it keeps fresh indefinitely. Moreover, it is especially concentrated for quick weight-building results. It takes a whole ton (2000 pounds) of Brewer's Malt Yeast to make less than 3 bushels of the concentrate that goes into Ironized Yeast. Think what a lot of weight-building value is put into each Ironized Yeast tablet by this extraordinary concentration! This highly concentrated Yeast is treated with two kind of iron used for years by the highest medical authorities. Iron builds rich, red blood; puts roses in your cheeks; tones up nerves and muscles.

The Yeast is also treated with Violet Rays, the new scientific discovery, which adds still further to its energizing and health-building powers. It is only when Yeast is Ironized in this way that it is most effective. For Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening values of Yeast.

By this special formula, Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by Yeast or Iron taken separately.

Users Tell How They Gained Weight and Health

Don't Be a "Skinny" Weakling

BRITISH PRESS,
POLITICIANS HAIL
DAWES AS ENVOYSay World Knowledge
Makes Him Ideal.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, April 11.—The highest commendation is expressed by British politicians and press over the appointment of former Vice President Charles G. Dawes as United States ambassador to the court of St. James.

The press without exception welcomes his appointment and diplomats, though declining to be quoted, are equally enthusiastic. It is felt here that the appointment of Mr. Dawes is ideal because of his intimate knowledge not only of European economic problems, which are bound to bulk largely in his work during the coming years, but also because of his intuitive personal touch with the leading public men of Europe who know and admire him.

The Morning Post expresses regret at the departure of Alanson B.
Houghton, the retiring ambassador, but says "no successor could be more actively persona grata than Gen.
Dawes."

Times Approves Appointment.
The Times interprets the appointment of Dawes "as full of promise for the four years ahead."
The appointment of Dawes relieves the general fear that the successor to Houghton would either be a society ambassador, of whom Great Britain has had enough in the past, or an American politician without knowledge of Europe who would take a long time to learn his job and might be tricked, either by a desire not to attend Europe or by chavinsistic pressure from home, into making serious mistakes.

The British, contrary to general opinion, lack respect for apologetic Americans and are pleased to have a man like Mr. Dawes who is endowed with sturdy Americanism combined with sound knowledge to deal with nothing is known here yet as to when Mr. Dawes will arrive, but it is believed that he will be here early in the summer.

Speeds Budget Work.
SANTO DOMINGO CITY, Dominican Republic, April 11.—(P)—Gen.
Charles G. Dawes, who declined yesterday to comment on his appointment as ambassador to the court of St. James because he had not received official notification of his selection, indented today that he expected his work in Santo Domingo to be completed in time for his departure for the United States April 25.

WOMEN BEAT UP
BANDIT TRYING TO
ROB GIRL CASHIER

(Picture on back page.)

Scores of women shoppers on the main floor of the Boston store severely pummeled a youthful robber who attempted to hold up a girl cashier yesterday afternoon. Two policemen resued the robber from the enraged women and escorted him to safety on another floor until order was restored.

The youth walked up to Miss Rose
Kapules, a cashier living at 1853 North Damen avenue, pressed a pistol at her blouse, and commanded her to hand him the contents of a till at her back.
As the girl shrieked, the robber pocketed his weapon and started away but the women closed in.

The youth was on the floor with a dozen women kicking him when the two policemen arrived. The officers shoved through the crowd, linked arms with the disheveled youth, and escorted him to an elevator. At the defective bureau he identified himself as Arthur Lasar, 19 years old, of 1871
Lyndale avenue.

RECONCILIATION
PACT SIGNED BY 15
DENOMINATIONS

Baltimore, Md., April 11.—(Special.)
—Sixty-three persons from fifteen denominations, including the Protestant Episcopal and four Methodist Episcopal bishops, have signed a reconciliation pact among the churches. The pact originated with the Rev. Dr. Peter Ainslie, editor of the Christian Union
Quarterly and pastor of the Christian Temple.

The pact deprecates a divided Christendom and expresses interest in all conferences looking toward "reconciliation of the divided church of Christ."

DETROIT POLICE
CAPTAIN ACCUSED
AS RUM RUNNERSix of His Men Squeal;
He Is Suspended.

Detroit, Mich., April 11.—[Special.]

In what was termed by Police Commissioner William P. Rutledge "the worst scandal in the history of the Detroit police department," Capt. Joseph A. Burkheiser, harbormaster and commanding officer of the Belle Isle police station, was suspended on a charge of aiding rum runners.

Capt. Burkheiser will face the police trial board on the charge of aiding rum runners to smuggle Canadian liquor across the Detroit river, and state and federal authorities will be present to determine whether warrants against him for violating the state or federal prohibition laws can be sustained.

Denies All Charges.
Among other charges it is alleged that Burkheiser on at least two occasions detailed a police department boat to convey liquor cargoes safely across the river.

Burkheiser, according to Superintendent of Police James Spratt, denies all the charges. "My men were a bunch of crooks and I couldn't hold them together," Spratt said Burkheiser told him.

The charges against Burkheiser grew out of a two year investigation.
In a report filed by Supt. Spratt and Inspector J. F. Smith, Burkheiser is accused in depositions of six of his patrolmen.

Warned Men Not to Talk.

The official report lists: That rum runners were safely conveyed from the Canadian to the American shore by police boats under Burkheiser's orders; that Burkheiser confiscated evidence for his own use; that he ordered policemen to guard a boat-load of liquor to prevent its seizure by federal or state officers; that he three times drove a police automobile loaded with liquor across the Belle Isle bridge.

Offenses, it is said, occurred chiefly in the fall of 1927. Rumors that the island police were abetting rum runners reached officials in the downtown police headquarters at that time, but an investigation failed to get results.

All of the patrolmen under Burkheiser denied the charges. In the report filed today six of the officers who made depositions in 1927 now accuse their superior. Other officers likely will be suspended.

Early tonight Capt. Burkheiser was reported in a critical condition, due to a nervous collapse. He became hysterical on learning of the accusations which shattered his unblemished record of 23 years as harbormaster. His screams could be heard on the ground floor of the island police station, beneath his home, and his physician ordered his removal to a hospital.

U. S. MOVES TO START PAINTERS' RACKET TRIAL

16 Candy Jobbers Guilty; Face Prison.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Paul Johnson, burglar, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Frank Fisher, assault to rob, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in Penitentiary; Mario Wilson, assault to rob, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary; John J. Sullivan, Stanley Konkel, burglar, sentenced to 1 year to life in Penitentiary; Judge Harry B. Miller, Bill Turckel, embezzlement, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; John P. McGowan, Joseph DiGiuseppe, confidence game, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Jacob Hopkins.

The first conviction for labor racketeering obtained in the federal courts came yesterday when a jury before Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley found sixteen members and officials of the Chicago Association of Candy Jobbers guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust law. Eighteen others were found not guilty.

This morning Assistant Attorney General Mary G. Connor, the trust expert who obtained the conviction, will appear before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward and ask that an early date be set to try another Sherman law indictment directed against Arthur W. Wallace and other members of Painters' District Council No. 14. A previous trial resulted in a locked jury, and Miss Connor seeks to dispatch the case as speedily as possible.

Three Officials Convicted.
Of the sixteen candy jobbers found guilty three are considered the leaders in a conspiracy to use terroristic methods against storekeepers whose activities did not meet with the association's pleasure. They are Albert A. Hoffman, president; Henry Melsterling, vice president, and John D. Mand, secretary-treasurer. All three convicted are subject to a year in jail and a fine of $5,000.

In addition to the officers, these men were found guilty: James Benda, James Boyle, William J. Briley, Sam Chas, William Friedman, Max Goldsmith, Richard J. Jenson, Leslie J. Kerkovich, Chris Mauritsen, William Lawler, John A. Monahan, Leroy C. Garman and Roy S. Ralston.

Those found not guilty are Alexander J. Brown, Charles Eliske, Aaron E. Epstein, Allen L. Gerberich, Lawrence A. Harney, William C. Gerber, William M. Landgraf, Sam Melman, George Parman, Sam Ratman, Wesley A. Smith, Albert F. Steger, Frank Stritch, Arthur Thompson, Joseph E. Vodka, Frank Work, Ernest Wisniewsky and Herman Zierogel.

Praise Miss Connor.

The defendants were represented by a corps of lawyers including State Senator Lowell B. Mason and former Assistant United States District Attorney Leo Klein and William F. Waugh.

Shortly after the verdict was returned before Judge Woodward, who received it in the absence of Judge Lindley, Miss Connor received a telegram of congratulations from Acting Assistant to the Attorney General Russell Hardy in Washington. "The verdict is entirely satisfactory," Miss Connor said.

24 HOURS IN CITY, DROPS DEAD.

Twenty-four hours after arriving in Chicago from Clinton, Mo., to seek employment, Charles Shaver, 23 years old, dropped dead in the home of friends at 1015 East 45th street yesterday, apparently from heart disease.

PINT A DAY IS INMAN'S QUOTA, HE TELLS COURT

Reno, Nev., April 11.—(AP)—Walker P. Inman, wealthy New Yorker, who is suing his wife for divorce on the ground that she drank too much and "ran wild" with other men, testified in divorce court here today that he drinks "about half a quart of liquor a day." He said he didn't believe his daily consumption of liquor impaired his health.

Two Reno physicians testified that Mrs. Inman's nose had been broken some years ago and had never properly healed. Mrs. Inman contends that her nose was broken when her husband struck her in 1925. A New York physician who attended her at the time testified in a deposition that Mrs. Inman suffered no serious injury.

Soft white skin

STYLES may come and styles may go—this year, wraps with capes, prints, ensembles. But the charm of daintiness rules forever... and the chief attraction of the dainty sex always will be a lovely complexion.

Do you give your skin the protection it deserves? An expensive array of mysterious jars and bottles is unnecessary. You merely need to keep your face clean, and to do that with the gentleness delicate skin must have. Always exposed to gusts of dusty wind and strong rays of sun, your face becomes coarsened unless it is cleansed in a soothing manner. Nothing preserves its fine texture and firmness better than Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth. (It has an oil base—the ideal cleanser since ancient Egyptians—3000 years ago—studied the fine art of enhancing natural beauty with cosmetics.)

The soothing, tonic effect on your skin and refreshing, scent are delightful. When you've wiped off Facial Youth your pores are clean and closed.

DRY UNIT SHIFT MAY BE MADE AT SPECIAL SESSION

Attorney General Mitchell
Invites Early Transfer.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—(AP)—Legislation transferring the prohibition enforcement unit from the treasury to the justice department may be added to the constantly growing agenda of the special session of the congress, which begins next Monday.

President Hoover has discussed this matter with some congressional leaders, including Representative Louis C. Cramton (Rep., Mich.), an outstanding spokesman for the drys. Attorney General William D. Mitchell today expressed the hope the transfer will be authorized in the near future. The position of the attorney general is that the department now is in the process of reorganization incident to the change of administrations and the prohibition unit could be absorbed more readily in the midst of this process than at some later time.

Hoover Proposed Change.

President Hoover proposed the transfer in his inaugural address as the first step for better law enforcement. Anti-Saloon league and other organization leaders at first were opposed to this, but the understanding now is they are content to give the plan a trial.

Several difficult problems are involved in the proposed transfer, and the working out of the necessary legislation is expected to require some time. Even with the dry unit placed in the justice department, there must be close cooperation between that department and the treasury, under which must be left control of the coast guard and the customs service which are cooperating in enforcement. While full plans for the transfer have not yet been formulated, there will be no need for adding a new assistant attorney general at this time to take over the work of which the unit who takes full charge of enforcement must be relieved.

Assistant May Come Later.

Later, however, a new assistant probably will be added as the prosecution of cases growing out of violations of the law would require the full time of one of Mr. Mitchell's assistants.

The general expectation is that the unit will be absorbed by the division of the justice department now concerned with prohibition enforcement and which is presided over by Mrs. Isabel Willebrandt. In addition to prohibition, she now has direction of enforcement of the internal revenue and excise laws.

Whether Prohibition Commissioner Dena will be transferred to the justice department with the unit does not for the time appear to be quite clear. There have been suggestions that he would remain in the treasury in his old position of chief chemist.

DYER WILLING TO LET OTHERS BUY 'HIRAM WALKER'

Wants Money Back,
No Questions Asked.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., April 11.—(Special.)—Representative Leonidas C. Dyer (Rep., Mo.), whose recent sale in "Hiram Walker" stock is said to have cost him a substantial sum, has no intention, he said today, of pushing an inquiry into the legality of the sale of foreign distillery securities on the New York curb exchange.

Dyer, ranking majority member of the house judiciary committee, and an avowed wet, raised the point in a letter to the governors of the curb market, demanding that they reimburse him his losses.

Say He Bought 200 Shares.

Dyer declined to reveal how many shares of "Hiram Walker" stock he purchased, what he paid for it, or how much of a loss he sustained when disposed of it. One of his friends, however, declared the Missouri member had bought at least 200 shares, while others asserted it was probably much more. The stock was one of the "leaders" on the curb until the federal reserve board's warning against stock speculation caused the market to slump. It was pointed out that "Hiram Walker" reached a high of 35% a few weeks ago and closed yesterday at 25%.

Dyer's friends discussed the possible political effect of his protest to the curb officials, which, they said, is likely to be "misunderstood" in his home district as an indication that he is weakening in his opposition to Volsteadism.

Dry Agents Seize Fixtures of Two Saloons in Cicero

Two Cicero saloons were raided by prohibition agents yesterday, who seized large amounts of bonded liquor and home brew and confiscated the bars and other fixtures of the places. The agents arrested Stanley Fies and James Szaron at 1409 South 49th avenue, Cicero, and removed an eighteen foot bar when they found liquor there. Joe Karlonis was arrested at 4309 Roosevelt road and the fixtures of his soft drink parlor were removed. Wallace Keys, druggist at 1392 Lake street, was arrested for selling whisky without a permit.

SIX MONTHS FOR TOTTING OW.

Charged with carrying concealed weapons, Gabriel Fennan, 30 years old, 1430 West Van Buren street, an alleged bootlegger, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve six months in the reformatory by Judge Francis Borelli yesterday.

BADGER SOLONS RACING TOWARD DRY LAW REPEAL

Madison, Wis., April 11.—(Special.)—A third bill seeking to repeal the state dry act was introduced in the legislature today, and the repeal question has become a contest to decide who is to get the credit for taking Wisconsin out of the prohibition enforcement business.

The third bill was introduced by the senate committee on state and local government and is practically identical with the Grobowski bill in the assembly and the Polakowski bill in the senate.

The assembly committee on excise and fees today recommended to the house the Grobowski repeal bill for passage. The measure was made a special order of business for next Wednesday morning, when the first test vote will come. The measure will be rushed through to final passage if enough support is available to suspend the rules.

The assembly gave final passage to the Hading bill limiting buses to the same fares now permitted on railroads—3.5 cents a mile. The vote was 67 to 19 and goes to the senate for action.

MERIT SYSTEM IS RESTORED IN FIRE DEPARTMENT

Resume Examinations for Promotions.

Promotional examinations for all grades in the fire department are to be held within the next few months. Fire Commissioner Albert W. Goodrich announced yesterday. The first, for lieutenants, will start tomorrow.

The announcement was considered as meaning that Commissioner Goodrich and the civil service commission are now "on speaking terms," due to the ousting of Thomas F. Houston as president of the commission and the appointment of Carlos S. Ames as his successor. It means that approximately 106 firemen of the grade of lieutenants, captains and battalion chiefs who were given temporary promotions have the possibility of being demoted if they are not highest in the examinations, it was explained.

Seeks Aid of Swanson.

The announcement of the restoration of the merit system in promotions came after Attorney James J. O'Toole representing the firemen's association, had sought the aid of State's Attorney Swanson. Attorney O'Toole said civil service had been abolished, practically, since the beginning of the present administration of Mayor Thompson.

The promotional list in effect when Thompson assumed office were canceled by order of President Houston, the lawyer said, and no examinations were called to furnish other eligible lists, political preference ruled in filling vacancies. Commissioner Houston denied political favoritism, but admitted he could not make civil service examinations because the civil service commission would not act.

Enemies of Long Standing.

It was known that Commissioner Goodrich and Houston were unfriendly while both were in Thompson's cabinet and the failure to hold examinations was declared to be due to that feud. Houston, being unwilling to let Goodrich have a voice in the conducting of the tests. President Houston declared that outside influences were at work in the department on the subject of promotions and promises made without his knowledge or consent would not be fulfilled.

Attorney O'Toole brought a suit to compel the restoration of the list for lieutenant chief. He asserted the commissioners did not act in good faith in discarding the eligible roster. He charged that the administration was playing politics with the fire fighting jobs.

The morale of the department has been shattered, Attorney O'Toole said, "and general dissatisfaction and discontent exist. With 106 men holding official positions they did not win on their merits there has been constant turmoil among the firemen. Men of few years of experience have been made temporary lieutenants and put over seasoned fire fighters."

Many on Temporary List.

"When the suit was filed there were four temporary lieutenant chiefs, twenty temporary captains, and twenty temporary lieutenants, all holding the higher grades on sixty day appointments renewed from time to time. Since then the number has increased to six lieutenant chiefs and about fifty each of lieutenants and captains. The list for division marshals has been in existence for 13 years and that is as it should be."

"Men enter the fire department with the expectation that promotion will be based on efficiency and attention to duty and not on politics. They have the hope that as their families grow larger and older and their expenses mount that they will get increased pay and the promotion they deserve."

Commissioner Goodrich said he had to make the best of a condition over which he had no control and he expressed the hope that the civil service commission, with Ames as president, will do its part to put the department back on a sound basis.

By ELMER DOUGLASS.

Good music flowed in from many quarters all last evening, but none was more delectable than the Musical Melange orchestra concert from W-G-N, 830 to 930. Here was a concert during which one could experience the real enjoyment that accompanies the hearing of consequential music.

Fortunately, the program of this delightful concert was printed in full in W-G-N's program column. The playing was in a manner wholly adequate to the demands of the selections. It's strange indeed that this Musical Melange has not had an imitator somewhere! Also, it has occupied the handiwork of advertising interruptions.

Prominent was Bach's Suite No. 2 for strings and flute, played complete with the exception of the opening overture. Any one of its seven sections can be heard over and over again with undiminished enjoyment of the work and admiration for the composer. Lefebvre's Quintet for woodwind choir, in three sections, was unfamiliar, but I have not yet heard any work played by a woodwind choir that was so charming. Saint-Saens' Symphonie, for full orchestra, also unfamiliar to me, came through so rich and full toned that it seemed as if it was being played by a full sized symphony orchestra. The concert closed with two selections for the woodwind choir.

There was a program by a musical organization directed by Carl Craven from WLS, 930 to 10, which was enjoyable so far as selections by the chorus were concerned. The solo numbers were not more effective than is usually the case when soloists attempt to compete with a chorus in radio concerts.

May I make the suggestion that since ours is primarily an American audience, if one of WMAQ's auditors, in making his departure for the night, would eliminate the words, "and good night to you all," it would be of credit both to the announcer and the station.

ALVIN K. DUNLAP, A. E. F. HERO, TO BE BURIED TODAY

The body of Alvin Knight Dunlap, son of Mrs. Lucy Dunlap, 1211 East Marquette road, which was plowed up in France near an old trench in the Alsace region several months ago was returned to Chicago yesterday by the government and will be given military burial today from the chapel at 4407 North Elston avenue. The service will be held at 2 p. m.

Dunlap enlisted on April 7, 1917, when he was 18 years old, the same age as was his grandfather, George W. Earhart, when he enlisted as a Confederate soldier in the civil war. Because Alvin was under age he took the name of Albert Patrick. He was assigned to company L, 18th Infantry, and after a month's service on the Mexican border went overseas on the first transport.

Mrs. Dunlap said yesterday that although her son had enlisted without her knowledge she had corresponded with him under his assumed name throughout his service in France. She found his name among the list of dead in July, 1918, but his body was not discovered until several months ago by a French peasant.

When the body came into Chicago yesterday over the Michigan Central railroad it was met by George Kollogg, commander of the Cook county council of the American Legion; Lawrence McLean, national vice commander, and Joseph Novotny, judge advocate. J. D. Ricketts of the Legion is in charge of arrangements for the funeral.

With her at the time of her death were her husband and mother, her sister, Miss Joanna Powell, and brother, Edward Powell.

AMBASSADOR HERRICK WILL BE BURIED IN CLEVELAND MONDAY

Cleveland, O., April 11.—(AP)—Threatening to blow up the bank with a package she said contained nitroglycerin, a well dressed pretty brunette obtained $5,000 in a loan holdup of the Colorado State bank this afternoon.

Walking up to a cage with the package in one hand and a match in the other, the woman passed a note to Teller C. E. Kenney which read: "Give me all the bills you have in the cage or I will touch off this bottle of nitroglycerin and blow you through the window."

The note was passed so quickly that employees and customers who thronged the bank were unaware that a holdup was in progress. Kenney complied with the demand.

She then walked out of the bank and Kenney dashed into an adjoining cage to tell E. H. Dahl, assistant cashier. Dahl had been less than ten feet away during the robbery.

"We are a long way from Washington and it becomes necessary for us to come here at times to discuss governmental affairs with Washington authorities," Mr. Roxas said. He declined to say whether he would make another plea for independence. ## PERSIAN SHAH JAILS SARDAR TO END REVOLT

TEHERAN, Persia, April 11.—The shah is adopting drastic measures to put down the serious tribal revolt in Farsistan.

The sensational arrest of Sardar Ashtar, chieftain of one of the much feared nomad tribes numbering 80,000 and known as the Ghashghais, who are at present revolting, was carried out today. Sardar was a member of the majlis, or national assembly, last season and is now being held in Teheran as a hostage against the tribes.

The Sardar's palace here and his family are under the strictest police supervision while the government threatens to confiscate his extensive lands and properties as a lesson to other tribal chieftains. Should other tribes join the Ghashghais, which is feared, the government would be faced with a serious situation owing to the mountainous nature of the country.

CUB PITCHERS REACH "FINEST FORM OF YEARS"

Hartnett Probably Out of Opener.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)
Oklahoma City, Okla., April 11.—Not a Cub pitcher has worked the full route during the spring training season, but it hasn't been for the reason you might surmise. There are nine pitchers now capable of pitching nine full innings were they called upon to do so.

"I never had so many pitchers in shape at one time," Manager McCarthy said today in reviewing the eight week training season. "If I had tried to work the first string boys for full games there wouldn't have been any competitive work for the others now in form. So I have tried to pass the job around purely as a physical culture routine."

Work Split Shift.
The split shift arrangement will continue tomorrow in Kansas City, Boss Joseph said. Charley Root is scheduled to go the first five of seven innings and any one else is likely to finish up. First string men also will start the Saturday and Sunday encounters in Kansas City, the latter of which will wind up the 1928 spring exhibition season.

Gabby Hartnett continues to be the only casualty on the squad. The young man has been gurgling spit for a week. Andy Lush, who has been dabbling about looking after ventilation, diet, and all other matters important in keeping athletes on edge on a long train ride.

CUBS RATE SECOND?

New York, April 11.—[U. P.]—It will take a 154 game schedule to settle the argument between the baseball fans over the relative merits of the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs, but a perusal of last season's records gives an edge to John J. McGraw's club.

Past performances frequently do not mean a thing, but they form an interesting means of comparing the potential strength of the two leading National League pennant contenders. The popular impression that the Cubs have the more powerful offensive team is not borne out by the 1928 averages. The Giants finished second in batting last season with an average of .293, while the Cubs trailed in fifth place with a mark of .271.

Giants Stronger at Bat.
Even with the league's batting champion, Rogers Hornsby, in the lineup the Cubs' attack is inferior to the Giants' offense in the percentage column. Excluding pitchers and catchers the Giants' seven regulars for 1928 have a batting average of .314 against .307 for the Cubs' seven.

Comparison of the two teams follows:

Player	B.A.	Player	B.A.
Tyler, 29	.308	Griffith, 28	.287
Isakson, 26	.270	English, 26	.280
Leach, 26	.264	Stephenson, 26	.284
Smith, 26	.281	Clayton, 26	.284
Reagan, 26	.283	Hartnett, 26	.281
Arritt, 26	.280	Hornsbey, 26	.287

OUR SOX WASHED OUT

Terre Haute, Ind., April 11.—[U. P.]—Somebody fished the White Sox into traveling 75 miles from Indianapolis to play a ball game that was not played today. The Country Club baseball superintendents found only mud and no customers when they went to the Terre Haute park for work.

It still was raining and the outlook for baseball was none too good when the Sox climbed out of bed this morning. Secretary Len Barbour called over the long-distance phone to see what the situation was here and was told to hurry over with the club, as everything was "jake."

There was nothing "jake" about the Terre Haute park when the south-siders proceeded thither to play ball. The game forthwith was called off and Manager Elinckhorst had succeeded in pulling his men from under a deep mud.

The schedule calls for the first of a three-game series with the Indianapolis club tomorrow afternoon. Alphonse Thomas Jr. is to do the pitching for the Sox. Inasmuch as he is booked to open against the Browns next Tuesday in St. Louis, working tomorrow will afford him the prescribed three days' rest before taking up his major league duties again.

There is little doubt about Thomas' ability to go the full distance of nine innings. He did that last Saturday at Wichita Falls when he took the hitters, although the Texas Leagueers found him for eleven hits.

BILLY WALLACE DEFEATS GROGAN IN TEN ROUNDS

Kaplan Wins Semi-Wind-up from Medill.

Detroit, Mich., April 11.—(U. P.)—Billy Wallace, Cleveland lightweight, bounded back into the front rank of contenders for "Sammy" Mandell's title tonight by decisively outpointing Tommy Grogan of Omaha in ten rounds. Wallace, by superior boxing, earned six of the rounds, with three going to Grogan and one even.

The fight was staged in the Olympia arena before a crowd of 15,000. Receipts for the evening were estimated at $35,000 to $40,000.

The Cleveland lightweight made the going tough for Grogan, who spent most of the evening mistaking his vaunted right hand smashes to the chin. Meanwhile Wallace kept popping the Omaha boxer with jolting lefts to the face and dropping over a short right cross to the chin to pile up his clearly defined margin.

In the eighth round Wallace sank a left hook low in foul territory, but the punch was unintentional and did no damage. Grogan knocked the Cleveland lightweight to his knees early in the ninth, with Wallace jumping up before a count could be started and ripping into his foe with a heavy attack.

Grogan scored 134 and Wallace 123. Kaplan of Maricao, Conn., former world's featherweight champion, pounded out a decision over Joey Medill of Chicago. He outboxed and outpunched him in every round. Medill weighed 127 pounds, with Kaplan scaling 134.

The finale of the women's singles tomorrow will be a Boston party. Miss Clara Greenup and Miss Margaret Sachs, both Bostonians, won their semi-final matches today.

Van Ryn outlasted Wright largely by virtue of his baseline maneuvering. He was behind only once. That ship, he played for the north and south.

Van Ryn and Onda moved to the final today by eliminating the two Canadian Davis cup players. Van Ryn defeated Jack Wright of Toronto, 6-1, 6-4, 6-1, while Onda took out Marcel Rainville of Montreal in four sets, 6-1, 6-0, 3-6, 6-3.

The finale of the women's singles tomorrow will be a Boston party. Miss Clara Greenup and Miss Margaret Sachs, both Bostonians, won their semi-final matches today.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

Turf Betting.

THE REV. EVERETT H. SMITH, pastor of the First Christian church of Miami, is quoted as saying: "he cannot differentiate between a $2 bet in the mutuels and a $500 binder put up to buy a $100,000 piece of property. He might go farther and say that so far as ethics are concerned he cannot differentiate between a $2 bet and margin trading in stocks or grains on recognized exchanges."

Of course, The Wake feels there is a difference between bets on a horse race and purchase of even stocks or real estate on margin, although all are speculations or gambling, if you prefer that term. Stocks or real estate, carefully selected and well bought, are pretty sure to appreciate over a period of years so that the holder, if he does not play over his head, may get out even or at a profit. A race bet, no matter how well selected, may go amiss at once. On the other hand, there are stocks and real estate more speculative, more risky and with less chance of profit than a turf wager.

We always have maintained that the casual racer should regard his race bets as amusement or recreation, setting aside as much as he can afford to lose, deriving pleasure from seeing his choice win when it does win, and regarding the residue, if any, at the end of the day as that much saved from the amount devoted to pleasure. Means of losers usually are from those who have lost more than they can afford, just as are the means of losers in stocks and grains.

The Wake, for 30 years interested in horses, always has been a small better—what most of our friends would term a "piker." And we feel that we have almost as much fun on "good" days, and certainly much less grief on "bad" days.

Ode to Rain.
Rain, rain, beautiful rain,
Singing a lullaby
To my window pane,
Bringing a message
That Spring's here again.

Rain, rain, glorious rain,
Painting new tints
On forest and plain,
Casting the clouds
To sing in refrain.

Rain, rain—it gives me a pain.
You needed the storm
And looked in the drain—
Two feet of water
Is my basement's shame!

NATIVE COLTS LOOM BEST IN DERBY TRIALS

Van Dusen, Braedalbane Flash Speed.

BY FRENCH LANE.

[Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.]
Lexington, Ky., April 11.—It seems fairly certain that the hand will play "My Old Kentucky Home" as the signal of a Kentucky victory in the Derby at Churchill Downs, May 18.

A visitor in the blue grass country this spring quickly discovers that there are two native thoroughbred sons which are held in the highest esteem. After a long period of training at the Old Kentucky association course here, they are in better condition than many of their rivals.

They are showing more speed than the other 2 year olds and one doesn't have to inquire long to discover that a Derby victory for either will bring great joy and happiness throughout this commonwealth.

But many wise men, in this horse haven of America, scratch their heads and remark that it is a vain expectation for Kentuckians to think either Clyde Van Dusen or Lord Braedalbane will win a Derby.

Named for His Trainer.
Clyde Van Dusen, a son of Man o' War—Uncle's Lassie, is named for his trainer. On Kentucky tracks, back in the long ago, there was a Kentucky lad who was a popular jockey. His name was Clyde Van Dusen. This is the same Clyde Van Dusen we visited at the Lexington track today. He was found preparing the Kentucky horse named for him for the great contest at the Downs next month.

There are allances which draw Lord Braedalbane even closer to the Kentucky heart. This son of Whisk Home Star is owned by Desha Brockbridge, Lexington newspaper publisher. The name Brockbridge long has been associated with Kentucky affairs of importance. Brockbridge long has championed the cause of the thoroughbred. He fought their battles when it appeared that virtually every one in the state wanted to outlaw King Horse and his contests of speed.

Lord Braedalbane never has wandered far from his native Lexington. The only news he has been out of Kentucky. He went to Churchill Downs last spring to score a victory by a nose over Clyde Van Dusen. He later visited Latonia and made three more appearances under silks. That ended his 3 year old racing.

Shows Speed in Workouts.
Lord Braedalbane, fresh from a winter's rest, has brought cheer to the friends and neighbors of Publisher Brockbridge by his speed trials. Within a week I have watched him outwork every horse—young and old—here. He reeled off a mile in close to 1:40 and seemed to be coasting at the end.

There is no doubting Lord Braedalbane's class. The two victories he scored as a 3 year old were from the leading youngsters in Kentucky. He came from behind both times.

But Lord Braedalbane isn't a rooster. He has several offers to fight in the races there.

La Barba Returns to U. S.; To Attend School in Fall
San Francisco, April 11.—(U. P.)—Fidel La Barba, former flyweight champion, returned here today aboard the steamship Ventura after a stay of several months in Australia where he met the leading fighters.

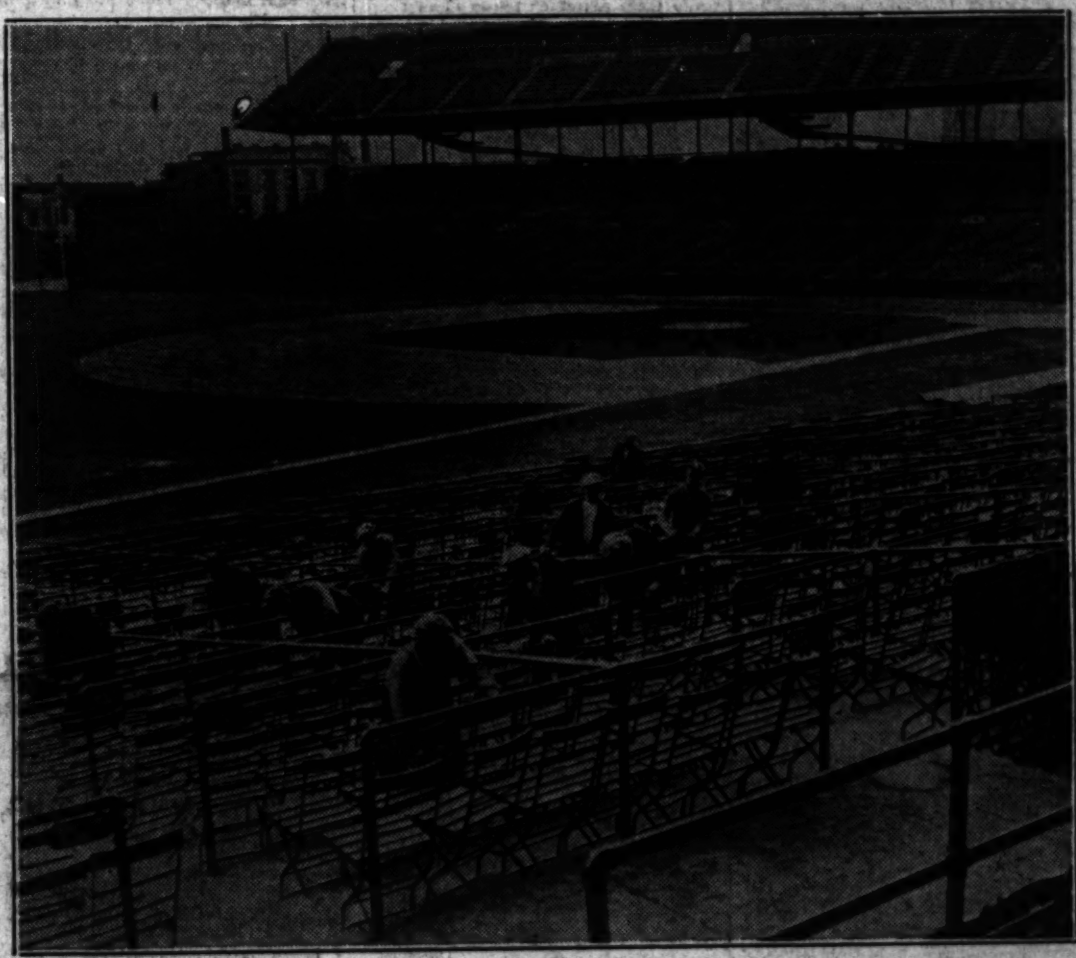

La Barba, 26, won the flyweight title and retained it a couple of years ago at Arizona State university, but after a term of school returned to the ring as a bantamweight. He stated today that he intends to enter Stanford again next September.

La Barba has several offers to fight in the east.

Southern Illinois Normal Wins Dual Track Meet
Charleston, Ill., April 11.—(U. P.)—Southern Illinois Normal of Carbondale defeated Eastern Illinois Teachers' college here today in a dual track and field meet, 70-4 to 64-6. No out-standing marks were made because of poor weather and track conditions.

Lincolnshire will hold its formal opening Sunday. The annual trap shoot will be an addition to the attractions of golf.

Two More Golf Courses to Open Here Tomorrow

BY HARLAND ROHM.

While most of the forest preserve golf courses won't be opened officially until May 4, play will begin on two courses tomorrow and Sunday. Weather permitting, the Palos Hills course and the No. 2 course at Edgebrook will give the municipal golfers their first taste of golf. The other courses still are too wet. The No. 1 course at Edgebrook being partly flooded.

The forest preserve courses will be closed week days until May, Jack O'Brien, new golf superintendent of the board, said yesterday, to permit seeding and fertilizing the fairways.

The public parks courses will be somewhat later in opening. Of course, all present dates are dependent on the weather, but Garfield and Columbus parks, on the west side, are expected to open May 1. Opening of Marquette and Jackson parks comes in some what in doubt, but it won't be this week-end and possibly not the next.

Evanston community, with nearly perfect drainage, has been open some time.

Most of the daily fee courses are open and are getting a heavy play. Among them are Pickwick Suburban, Cog Hill, Mid-City, Hickory Hills, Evergreen, Oak Hills, Harlem, Indian Head, and Pipe of Peace.

Frank styles of golf are many, but a story from the downstate village of Ramsey, Ill., turns up a new way of getting a lot of practice without too much effort in practicing by automobile.

Ramsey was bitten deep by the golf bug and the original course has been turned into a huge practice field and a new one built. One of the younger golfers, "Spud" Van Franklin, drives to the practice field in an ancient car, tops up his ball, and socks it. Marking it down, he mounts the antique vehicle, drives to the ball, dismounts, hits it again, and so on until he's played at least 15 holes without walking a block. The game has added thrills as the practice course is rolling, and some of the car's plunges down hills have as much kick as a 225 yard drive.

Olympia Fields is building a new outdoor dance floor of cement with a demountable bandstand. The cement floor will replace a wooden one, between the formal garden and the practice putting green, south of the clubhouse.

Lincolnshire will hold its formal opening Sunday. The annual trap shoot will be an addition to the attractions of golf.

Kid Chocolate,
Bushy Graham
Battle Tonight

New York, April 11.—(Special.)—Although the New York state athletic commission refused to put a championship label on the 15 round bout between Kid Chocolate, undefeated Cuban bantam, and Bushy Graham of Utica, which will feature the dedication ceremonies of the New York Coliseum in the Bronx tomorrow night, the winner will be accepted unofficially as the successor to Charley Phil Rosenberg as champion of that class.

Chocolate will weigh 119 pounds when he steps on the scales at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Senator Luis Gutierrez, the dusky dynamo's manager, said today that the Kid could make 118 pounds without difficulty, but since the boys have agreed to fight at not more than 123 pounds eight hours before the fight he will not attempt to bring Chocolate down to that low level.

The betting tonight was 7 to 5 that Chocolate romps home a winner. The committee which was in charge of naming charter members of this Tribune "crew" was composed of Walter Wright, Tobias Orb, Herman Fischer, Eddie Mahlie, Harry Bars, Frank Oakes, and E. C. Delaporte. These men voted the following to membership:

Here's Why Lake Placid Won Winter Olympic Sports. New York, April 11.—(AP)—It seems a trifle too cool and distant a proposition to get warmed up now over the award of the 1932 Olympic winter sports to Lake Placid, N. Y., instead of to one of the higher altitudes of California. Nor do close observers expect any extended controversy over this division of competition between the east and far west.

Los Angeles cannot itself furnish a site for the winter sports, as it has the authority to dispose of them elsewhere; therefore the decision automatically reverted to the international Olympic committee. Scanned Many Bids. This committee, pursuing its functions at Lausanne, scanned some half dozen or more bids from various parts of the United States and one part of Canada, making the award to Lake Placid as an established winter sports playground in preference to such other bidders as Duluth, Minneapolis, Denver, Montreal and two California places—Lake Tahoe and Yosemite.

There is no appeal from this decision of the international committee, which was dealing with a matter over which it has exclusive control. California was represented at the Lausanne conference by Col. William M. Garland, who submitted the various American bids for the Olympic winter sports. Col. Garland and his associate, Gen. Charles H. Sherrill of New York, made no specific recommendations beforehand, however. In explanation of this situation, Gen. Sherrill said today: "Before Col. Garland called, we met at my home with representatives of various places desiring to hold the Olympic winter sports. We requested full information, solely with the idea of having all the facts laid before the Olympic committee impartially and without recommendation of any sort. It was our feeling that it was a matter for the committee as a whole to decide."

Only with Kroydon Matched Clubs is PERFECT BALANCE Certain. Every club in a Kroydon Matched Set is individually balanced and checked against other clubs in that set. This is important, because many so-called "matched clubs" are only roughly balanced on a straight edge or by trying their "feel" in the hands. The only set that STAYS MATCHED. Ordinary irons invariably dent and nick. Dents are removed by filing, but this cuts away metal, and destroys balance. Irons made of soft steel also bend at the neck, which changes their loft. Kroydon irons of hardened steel are dent-proof and do not bend. They are the only matched irons that remain in perfect balance. Kroydon Sets are REGISTERED. An index is kept showing specifications for every club in a Kroydon Matched Set. A serial number is stamped on the club, and players may order duplicates or additional clubs by means of this number. Same balance as your PET CLUB. A complete set "made to measure" and duplicating the feel of your best club may be secured by having this club forwarded to the Kroydon plant. There is no extra charge. RUST-PROOF (and non-tarnishing). These irons are plated with a heavy layer of chromium. They not only remain like new, but are much harder than stainless steel clubs and have high-proof, rust-proof soles. Twelve piece Super-Matched Set consisting of three "Imperial" wood clubs, and nine irons with new Hi-Power steel shafts, $155.00. Other sets of five, six, eight, or nine irons, $48.00 to $108.00. Sets of three Matched Woods, $25.50 to $45.00. Single irons, $4.50 to $28.00. Individual woods, $4.50 to $15.00. Sold by Free and on the last shown. Write The Kroydon Co., Highland, N. PURDUE GETS HOT

DROPS; WINS 11-1Swamp De Pauw in Six Inning Game.

Lafayette, Ind., April 11.—(Special.)—Purdue's baseball team qualified as refrigerator experts here this afternoon as it chalked up its fifth straight victory of the season by defeating De Pauw, 11 to 1, in a six inning contest. Weather conditions were more suitable for outdoor ice hockey.

Purdue paid little attention to the temperature in the first inning, and after retiring De Pauw in one, two, three order, ran wild on the bases to score six runs before De Pauw could get warmed up. The Boiler-makers continued to score in every remaining inning.

Lamphear, De Pauw pitcher, yielded ten hits and two passes, in addition to hitting two batters in the five innings he occupied the mound. Milton Mills, Purdue's speedy third sacker, fanned his batting average with four singles in four trips to the plate. Two of his hits came in the first inning when ten Boiler-makers faced Lamphear. ## WALL ST. DRAINS FARM CREDITS, CAPPER CHARGES

Demands Congress Curb Call Loan Orgs.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., April 11.—Congressional action at the special session on the speculative situation was demanded today by Senator Arthur Capper (Rep., Kas.), leader of the senate farm bloc. Citing complaints from farm organizations that money normally used in the west is being poured into Wall street, Senator Capper asserted that bankers in the interior sections of the country should keep their money at home.

"Otherwise," said Senator Capper, "there can be only one end to the orgy of speculation which seems to have lost the power to curb itself except in a sudden crash that may involve the country."

Drawn from West.
"Money needed for the development of western business and the west's agricultural operations is going to New York, where call money rates have ranged from 8 to 20 per cent this last month," said Senator Capper. "Money needed at home is being drawn from western banks to continue this orgy of speculation at the expense of western agriculture and western business interests. The rise in the country's credit level threatens legitimate business. Interest rates in many sections of the country are higher than business can stand."

Senator Capper said that it seems "almost criminal" for western bankers to "throw their millions into New York's call money market, that the stock gamblers may bet the entire country's available resources on their gigantic poker game."

"I recall no time in my generation, not even in the days of bucket shops, when so many people were playing the market. Millions of shares change hands daily in Wall street, more and more to the detriment of economic conditions and to the peril of the country."

"The bull pen of the stock exchange has attracted so many who formerly risked their money in the honest pit of the Chicago Board of Trade that that grain market has recently voted in favor of adding speculation in stocks to its trading in crop futures."

Gives Satisfaction.
The weekly statement of brokers' loans in New York, showing a decline of 15 million dollars in the total, gave some degree of satisfaction to members of the federal reserve board, who have refused to approve increases in rediscount rates.

Opinion in Washington now is that

ANNOUNCE FINANCING IN PLAN TO RESTORE U.S. MERCHANT MARINE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, April 11.—Initial financing, totaling $10,000,000, for the United States Lines, Inc., consisting of the offering of 600,000 shares of preference stock of no par value, priced at $17.50 a share, is announced for tomorrow by a nation-wide banking group headed by F. W. Chapman & Co., Inc.

This corporation, organized to acquire the ships and business of the United States Lines, is the company which Paul W. Chapman, New York and Chicago banker, and his associates plan to restore the American merchant marine to its former position in the trans-Atlantic trade. The offering is restricted to American citizens.

The preference stock will be entitled to cumulative dividends at the rate of $1 a share annually, accruing from Jan. 1, 1929, and will participate equally with the common in any further dividend distributions. The stock will be non-callable and will have full voting powers, and will be entitled, in case of liquidation, to 35 cents a share, after which it will participate with the common in any further distribution of assets.

The capitalization of the company will consist of this issue of preference stock and 1,000,000 shares of common of no par value, in addition to $13,651,500 4 1/2 per cent mortgage bonds, due 1930 to 1944, to be issued by the United States government.

no change in rediscount rates may be expected for some time. While several of the leading reserve banks continue to favor higher rates, and while one or two members of the federal reserve board would approve such action, a majority of the board is standing pat in opposition to it.

Chicago Banks Likewise

To Change Call Loan Fee

The big Chicago banks yesterday followed New York banks in changing their fees for placing call loans for correspondent banks. The plan is to charge one-half of one per cent of the loan instead of the present fee of 5 per cent of interest received on the loan. In effect, the lenders will pay a larger fee than at present when the call loan rate is below 10 per cent and a smaller fee when the rate is above 10 per cent. The new plan was approved by the Chicago clearing house committee, but is subject to ratification by the member banks.

NORTH SHORE AN INTERURBAN LINE, I. C. C. IS ASSURED

Securities Exempted from Regulation.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., April 11.—[Special.]—The Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad company today filed with the interstate commerce commission a reply in opposition to the request of George B. Elid and other stockholders of the company for a review by the commission of the decision disqualifying their petition seeking determination of whether the electric line is a carrier whose securities are subject to the jurisdiction of the commission.

Counsel for the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee asserted that the facts in the case clearly showed that it was an interurban electric railroad exempted from interstate commerce act regulation of its securities.

They said the securities of the company had been issued with the approval of the state commissions of Wisconsin and Illinois, and that application for approval was not made to the federal commission because of the conviction that it had no jurisdiction.

If a finding were made by the federal commission as sought by the complaining stockholders, counsel asserted, and the finding were adverse to the company, "it might and probably would seriously affect more than 47 million dollars worth of securities issued in good faith by defendant un-

BROKERS' LOANS
SHOW DECLINE
OF 135 MILLIONBanks Co-operate with Reserve.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The little speculators yesterday about the most cheerful Thursday in recent weeks. The weekly report of brokers' loans showed a further decline of $135,000,000, which was as much more than had been expected. The New York Federal Reserve bank announced no change in its 5 per cent discount rate, thereby relieving fears of any upward revision in the immediate future.

And, finally, the federal reserve board made no disturbing pronouncement, such as indicated last week. It was generally anticipated that the reserve board is fairly content with the progress made in calming the securities markets and reducing the amount of reserve credit indirectly used for speculation.

The current decline in loans to brokers and security dealers by the New York member banks marks the third consecutive week to show a decline. In these three weeks such loans have shown a decline of $386,000,000, bringing the total down to $1,793,000,000 on March 29. However, the current total is still $1,849,000,000 above a year ago.

What Report Indicates.

The details of the report also indicate that banks throughout the country are cooperating more wholeheartedly with the reserve board's policies. The New York banks reduced their loans of $106,000,000 and now are lending $129,000,000 less than a year ago. The interior banks also reduced their loans by $21,000,000 and now are lending $18,000,000 less than a year ago.

This is the first time in months that the interior banks have shown a decrease in yearly comparative figures. Even corporations and other lenders, although not under the influence of the reserve board, reduced their loans by $1,600,000. This probably was the result of expanding spring business and preparation for the mid-month disbursements. But this class of lenders is furnishing $1,681,000,000 more than a year ago, thus accounting entirely for the whole expansion in brokers' loans.

Although not made public until last night and therefore without market effect, the weekly report of the federal reserve system also was a check on the member bank borrowings, which as a result of sharp curtailment in the Chicago district, fell for the week ending April 11 to $46,320,000, down from $49,520,000.

Heavy acceptances and government securities also receded $17,326,000 and $2,985,000 respectively. Deposits fell $42,639,000 and note circulation contracted $5,180,000. Gold and total reserves expanded $55,570,000 and $1,000,000 respectively, and the ratio of reserves to liabilities rose to 73.5 per cent, compared with 71.5 per cent last week.

Reserves Efforts.

The strenuous efforts of the big Chicago banks to reduce their loans as securities and pave down their borrowings are reflected in the report of the Chicago reserve bank. Loans dropped $17,890,000, now standing at $121,600,000. Acceptances declined $1,817,000. Deposits increased $1,458,000. Reserves jumped $76,524,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 73.5 per cent, compared with 67.3 per cent a week ago.

The report of the New York reserve bank showed an increase in loans of $11,207,000 but acceptances

Economist Asserts Views on Marketing of Grains

BY SCRUTATOR.

Erratic movements in the wheat market the early part of the week, and slower trade outside markets, attributed to uncertainty as to what effect the farm relief legislation to be presented to congress will have on marketing and prices.

Fears that any agencies under government supervision can replace the existing markets and hopes that an orderly marketing system can control prices of the standard grains possibly are unwarranted.

The belief that regulation of the flow of grains to market would result in better prices was popular with the farmers when the McNary-Haugen bill was passed and vetoed by President Coolidge. There are students of economic problems who are positive that nothing like this could be made to come to pass, especially in view of increasing production.

One of these is Prof. James E. Boyle of Cornell university, in discussion of the problem of wheat marketing, he asserts that no good results can come from controlling the flow of this grain. "Orderly marketing where, had, has not raised prices, or stabilized prices, or eliminated speculation," he says. "The cheapest way for the farmer to market his grain is to market it the way those who have spent their lives in the grain business market the grain."

Determination of Prices.

The professor quotes the advocates of the system as figuring that the flow of wheat to the domestic market determines the price and that if the flow is controlled the price is likewise under control. Having set up this straw man, he proceeds to demolish it. "Wheat," he states, "is a world crop and it is the size of the whole crop, not the flow to domestic markets, that determines price."

As to perishable products, like fruit and vegetables, this authority admits that orderly marketing is of immense value. He draws a distinction between perishable products which will not stand long storage and the standard grains. With perishables, the supply in a certain place at a certain time governs the price, but with the facilities for future trading and hedging in grain, it is the total supply that governs and will continue to govern as long as statistics are available to guide traders.

His stand is supported by figures to show that the dumping of wheat in Chicago, the greatest of all grain markets, does not affect prices. He states that half the grain crop of the United States is sold within ninety days of harvest and most of it in that period moves to the central markets. As an instance, he cited August, 1924, when eight times as much wheat arrived as in July and was absorbed without a fall in price, while drops in prices had been noted on days when single bushels was brought into Chicago.

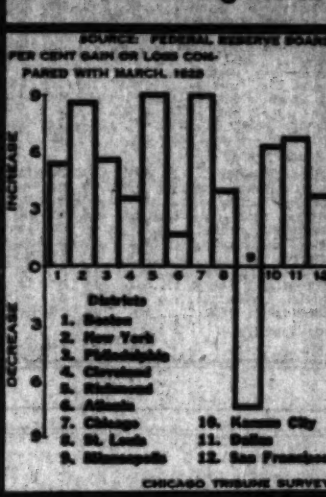

No System Perfect.

There are a great many lines in which the farmer is given a poor break in distributive facilities. No marketing system is perfect. But grain, in all likelihood, is sold more economically through the present method than any other product of the farm. Supply and demand function through the exchanges about as well as could be expected.

No one knows yet what the relief measures are to be. Tariffs are to be raised, which will be of value to the producers. Marketing systems may be outlined and their effect is doubtful, especially in grains. About overproduction it is likely nothing will be said.

Most arguments about the farm question come to an impasse when some one remarks that crops are too large and some one else retorts that the only way to assure ample supplies is to have too much at times. Both sides are correct here. But the surplus ought to be held down in some way.

One of the obvious things to do is to adopt measures to prevent the opening up of any more irrigated tracts and so preserve the values of lands already under cultivation. Huge projects like Boulder dam may prove more damaging to agriculture than the many kinds of inefficient marketing have proved in the past.

Oil Board Favors Compact of States for Regulation

Washington, D. C., April 11.—(AP)—The federal oil conservation board has informed the American Petroleum Institute that in its opinion the proper conservation of oil resources could be effected by an interstate compact to which the federal government, through congressional action, would be a party.

Secretary Wilbur, in a letter written for the board to the institute, said that with such a proposal in mind it was the intention of the board to have Dr. Otis Smith, on its behalf, visit and interview the governors of the three or four dominating oil producing states and learn their views upon such a plan.

The letter was written in answer to questions asked by directors of the institute who appeared before the board last week to outline a plan calling for an agreement in the oil industry which would curtail production this year to the 1925 level. The institute at that time asked the board to approve the plan but was faced with an opinion of the attorney general that the board had no authority to approve or disapprove of such agreements.

Purpose of Board.

After outlining the situation, Dr. Wilbur wrote as follows: "Purely negative action does not cure the prime difficulty—the rapid waste of our oil resources. The purpose of the board has been to find a constructive method for the prevention of the present reckless waste of oil and it naturally sympathizes with every practicable step."

"As you are aware, the investigation of the board over the last few years have demonstrated large wastes in the production and utilization of

New York, April 11.—Money went begging in Wall street today and the delighted bulls of the stock exchange celebrated the occasion by staging a broad and at times brisk market rally.

The call rate, holding at 8 per cent, was too dear for the small fry, however, and trading was not so spontaneous or voluminous as it might have been. The turnover was barely over 2,895,000 shares. Recoveries of from 1 to 5 points were numerous, with the weak spots few and far between. Virtually every group shared in the improvement.

Hopes of a substantial decline in the total brokers' loans to be announced after the close of business—

BENDIX GAINS ON REPORTS OF FINISHED DEAL

Shares Climb 6 Points on Chicago Exchange.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.
(Chicago stock list page 38.)

Bendix was the star performer in a strong Chicago stock market yesterday, shooting up six points on the report that negotiations in New York to make Bendix the nucleus of a gigantic holding corporation of airplane accessory manufacturers had been completed during the day.

Formal announcement of the deal is expected to be made in a day or two. It is understood that the new company will be capitalized at $140,000,000 and will involve the General Motors corporation, Stromberg-Carlson, the Delco-Remy company, Electro Auto-Lite corporation, the Eclipsa Machine company and the Scintilla Magneto corporation. The Scintilla concern is understood to have developed an extremely light magneto especially available for airplane use.

Details of the plan call for the inclusion of the name Bendix in the new company's title. The present 500,000 shares of Bendix stock will be split two for one and an additional million shares of new common stock will also be created for the purpose of acquiring the subsidiary concerns. Representatives of three other airplane concerns, the Curtiss and Wright companies will be included on the board of directors. It is also understood that the Bendix stock will be listed on the New York Stock exchange next week.

With the height of several Chicago stocks to the New York exchange, Chicago bankers loaned up a bit on their collateral loans on local securities, a reapportionment bringing better loan terms to the seasoned investors listed here. Loans on this type of securities are being made on an equitable basis with New York stocks.

Another company planning to list in New York is Poor & Co., according to an announcement made last night. The company is negotiating an expansion program and stockholders were called during the day to meet on April 22 to vote on a proposal to increase the authorized common stock from $20,000 to $40,000 shares.

Report on Earnings.
It is understood that it will acquire the Rail Joint company of New York. The company reported net earnings for the 13 months ended Dec. 31 of $1,414,222, equivalent after preferred dividends to $1.67 a share on the common, compared with $223,154 or $2.17 a share, in 1927.

Great Lakes Aircraft gained three points. The company announced that Maj. P. G. Kemp, distributor for the Chicago territory, signed contracts at the Detroit air show for 105 planes at a total cost of $699,370. The company also announced that it is about to bring out a tapered wing model pursuit plane capable of a cruising speed of 135 miles an hour and selling for $4,500.

Tates Machine was a feature, closing at 22 1/2.

DEMAND PICKS UP FOR WOOLEN SUITINGS

New York, April 11.—(AP)—Quiet conditions that have prevailed throughout this week continued in cotton textile markets today. Prices were being held firm by mills and buyers showed interest only in small lots. One or two fair sheeting inquiries were reported. Export demand was about average.

Fine goods were active in spots with a little better demand for fancy suitings. Burlington showed a slight reaction after long declines in Calcutta, the sterling market going up about 24. There was more inquiry in the market. In woolen goods a moderate demand for gray suitings has been noticeable. Raw silk was quiet and unchanged.

LISTED BONDS GROW STEADIER IN SYMPATHY WITH STOCK MARKET

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

New York, April 11.—The listed bond market firmed up perceptibly today in sympathy with stocks, with the convertible issues leading the van. Even the New York traction issues, which have been under pressure since the Supreme court ruling against the 7 cent fare, were higher.

The active Interborough issue finished up at 104 1/4, with the exception of the 6 1/2 of 1932, which were off 1/4 point for the day. The 6 1/2 of 1932 were up 1/4 point, and Third Avenue issues were unchanged to off 1/4 point. The New York Traction issues gained fractionally. In a thin market, Brooklyn Union Elevated first stamps were down 1/4 point to a new low at 84 1/4.

International Telephone convertible 4 1/2, which have long led the list of bonds traded in the stock exchange from standpoint of activity, yielded the place today on transactions of but slightly more than $125,000. The issue closed unchanged.

Allegiance Corporation was in demand at higher prices, finishing up a point for the day. American convertible 7 gained 1/4 point, exceeding the net advance in the stock. Railroad bonds were active and generally higher. Seaboard adjustment to the most active bond in the entire list, touched a new high for the year at 94 1/4, and closed at 49, up 1 1/4 points.

COTTON NEWS MIXED

News governing the cotton trade was more mixed yesterday but not strong enough to cause active operations on either side of the market. This caused, certainly, the interest and narrowness in fluctuations and a close to 5 points net lower on futures in Chicago, unchanged to 1 point lower in New Orleans, and 1 point lower in Liverpool.

Liverpool was about as expected, with spot sales 9,000 bales and the feeling rather pessimistic as to the textile trade.

Consumption in the United States in March as estimated by Garfield was 626,000 bales, compared with government figures in February of 588,000 bales and 581,812 bales in March last year. This, while considered fairly bullish, had little effect as a market factor.

Weather conditions in all were favorable, with cooler predicted over part of the eastern belt.

Spots were unchanged, with New York 20.60c, and sales 20.60c. New Orleans 19.50c, with 27 1/2 bales sold. Galveston 19.50c and Houston 19.70c, and sales 24 bales. Prices follow:

WHEAT TRADING
MARKS TIME FOR FARM RELIEFCorn and Oats Higher;
Rye Declines.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain traders are awaiting definite information as to farm relief legislation in order to anticipate its effect on the markets, and until it is received a majority of operators are expected to keep close to shore.

A good part of the trade in wheat yesterday was of a local character with prices holding within a range of 1/4 cent, the finish being at net 12 1/4 cents, a cent higher than at the close of the week, with May 12 1/4 cents, July 12 1/4 cents, and September 12 1/4 cents. Winnipeg showed a firm underbid and finished 1/4 cent higher with May 12 1/4 cents, July 12 1/4 cents, and September 12 1/4 cents.

Corn prices had a range of 1/4 cent with May acting rather tight and closing 1/4 cent higher while the deferred futures were steady to 1/4 cent lower. May closed at 22 1/4 cents, July 22 1/4 cents, and September 22 1/4 cents. Oats were 1/4 cent higher with May 4 1/4 cents, July 4 1/4 cents, and September 4 1/4 cents. Rye lost 1/4 cent, the finish on May being at 11 1/4 cents, with July 11 1/4 cents and September 11 1/4 cents.

Export Demand Active.

With farm relief legislation in the offing the trade was not disposed to pay much attention to routine news, although there has apparently been a marked change in sentiment abroad, and a material increase in the export demand. Based on the seaboard estimates of business put through so far this week between 7,500,000 and 8,500,000 bu. has been sold, largely Manitoba, but probably including 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bu. of durum. Private cables told of unfavorable weather conditions in Europe. Liverpool closed 1/4 cent higher, partly on a resumption of buying of Australian grain by India despite the fact that harvesting is well under way in the latter country.

General run of corn comments from the southwest attracted little attention. Further rains were shown in Kansas, but the forecast was for fair and warmer, and there was little apprehension of dry weather has been allayed by the recent storm in the latter section. Buenos Aires closed 1/4 cent higher on wheat. Exports for the week are estimated at 5,550,000 bu. against 5,445,000 bu. last year.

Local Trade in Corn.

There was a further contraction in the outside interest in corn, but with unfavorable weather for field work over the greater part of the belt, and a lack of pressure of cash grain, futures averaged slightly higher. The spot basis was steady to 1/4 cent higher as compared with May. Buenos Aires finished unchanged for the day. Argentine exports for the week were estimated at 3,465,000 bu. against 1,174,000 bu. last year.

Oats showed independent strength, and while the new crop was reported coming up to a good stand where seeding has been done, the wet weather is delaying the completion of this work. Market was fairly active with scattered lots selling May, while cash transactions bought May and sold September at 4 1/4 cent difference. House with northwestern connections were good sellers of September rye and the market broke sharply after an early bulge. The seaboard reported a good foreign demand somewhat under the market.

LARD AND MEATS

With a fair commission house trade in lard on both sides of the market and considerable liquidation by holders of May lard which was taken by packers who sold the deferred futures, prices averaged higher yesterday and closed with net gains of 1/4 to 1/2 cent. Higher prices and small receipts of hogs was a feature in creating a better tone. Liverpool was 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower. Foreign demand was said to be small, and exports were only 50,000 lbs.

Interest in ribs was light, and they are out of line as compared with bellies, but prices were unchanged. Bellies were given less attention but closed 1/4 cent higher, with a limited cash demand. Exports of bacon were 237,000 lbs.

Hogs advanced 1/4 to 1/2 cent, and closed with a slight demand. Arrivals at western points were small and under those of the past two years. Prices followed the close of the week.
